R.A.F. in Night Raid to Keep Up Historic Attack

Powerful Force Follows Smash By Nearly 3,000 U.S. Planes

LONDON, April 13 (AP).—Great American air armadas totaling nearly 3,000 bombers and fighters from bases in both Britain and Italy smashed at the Axis by daylight today, and they had scarcely quit the skies before the R.A.F. sent out another powerful force of heavy bombers to carry on the historic non-stop bombing of Europe.

The big Lancasters and Halifaxes crossed the east coast tonight in a steady procession. These heavyweights were preceded by smaller R.A.F. groups which headed toward the Reich even while some American units still were returning.

The United States daylight operations, in which a record number of 1,100 Britain-based fighters engaged, in addition to bombers of the Eighth Air Force in Britain and the 15th Air Force in Italy, were directed at aircraft and industrial centres deep in Southwestern Germany and in Hungary.

The raiders carried the current daylight aerial offensive against the Nazis through its sixth straight day after Italian-based R.A.F. planes attacked railway yards at Budapest last night and R.A.F. Mosquitoes from British bases struck Osnabruck, Germany.

R.A.F., R.C.A.F., American and Allied medium bombers kept up the assault on selected continental targets during the day, and R.C.A.F. Spitfires from the Second Tactical Air Force provided part of the escort cover for American and Netherlands mediums, which attacked military targets in Northern France and Belgium. Later R.C.A.F. fighter-bombers attacked other military objectives in Northern France. All the Canadian planes returned.

PLASTER AIRCRAFT PLANTS, BEARING WORKS

Between 500 and 750 heavy bombers from Britain plastered aircraft plants at Augsburg and Oberpfoffenhofen, air force installations at Lechfeld and the big ball-bearing works at Schweinfurt—all in Germany—while another strong force of perhaps 500 big bombers from Italian bases smashed a Messerschmitt factory at Gyor, about 70 miles northwest of Budapest.

A total of 36 United States heavy bombers and eight fighters failed

Brilliant Lights Newest Defence

LONDON, April 14 (Friday) (CP).—An unprecedented display of searchlights stabbed the sky early today as the capital's big anti-aircraft batteries barked out at a small group of Nazi raiders that penetrated the London area for the second successive night.

Veteran watchers said the sky never before had been so lighted. Apparently the extraordinary use of searchlights was part of a defence surprise prepared in a series of night exercises earlier this week.

Attesting to the effectiveness of the tactics, only one small group of flares was seen over London proper.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

LONDON, April 13—The Germans are in flight from the Crimea and have already been cleared from the whole of the Kerch Peninsula.

The Red Army is rapidly recovering towns, railways and strategic points, over-running the enemy defences one after another.

The German commander at the head of the mixed Nazi and Romanian armies had received reinforcements and artillery, says The Times' Moscow correspondent, but the heavy Russian barrage soon put these out of action.

The Red Army is in a great hurry to clear the Crimea and a new maritime force under General Yeremenko is giving them valuable aid on the seaward side.

He landed his troops from fast cutters along the southern coast of the Sea of Azov behind the retreating Germans, cutting off 2,000 of them and isolating Kerch.

The Russians will probably find the Crimean airfields in good condition, as the ground is drying up after Winter snow and rain.

The doomed German army to the westward of Skala has lost 26,000 killed and nearly 7,000 captured.

The coal strike in Britain has ended. Commenting editorially, The Times says that the wages agreement now accepted by the men stabilizes rates for four years.

Leadership has formally returned to the trade union chiefs, but only after the strikers have been slowly brought to see the extent of the injury they were doing their country and the impending invasion of the Continent.

However, it will now be necessary to ensure stability by the extended use of existing conciliation machinery. And the demon of mistrust must somehow be exorcised.

Yorkshire Pudding Waiting for Nazi Forces

Inspecting an armored formation in Yorkshire, Prime Minister Winston Churchill drives in a half-track past an imposing row of Sherman tanks with bereted crews standing at attention before their vehicles. Sights like this are now the rule along the English countryside as the greatest striking force the world has ever seen is poised for the attack on the Continent.

Say Invasion Rumor Only Garbled Report

Three Ontario Listeners Say They Heard Announcement on Nazi Radio Broadcast

TORONTO, April 14 (Friday) (CP).—Rumors of a European invasion skyrocketed last night after three reports from Ontario residents of a purported German broadcast that a landing had been made on the Channel coast of France early today, but as the hours passed with no trace of official confirmation, the assumption could be only that the listeners heard some broadcast incorrectly.

One version of the incident said the rumors probably stemmed from a distorted version of an English-language broadcast by the German radio discussing the improvement of the enemy's Channel defences since the attack at Dieppe in 1942.

The supposed German broadcast was quoted from three points in Ontario as saying Canadian troops were included in an Allied landing-force which struck at Calais.

Officials in Ottawa, however, dismissed the rumors lightly. War Department offices there and at Washington showed no unusual activity.

The fact none of the major radio listening posts in Britain, the United States or Canada heard the purported enemy emission made it certain, it seemed, that no broadcast in the reported wording had been made from Germany.

Ottawa spokesmen said any statement on a landing—if one were made—would have to come from the United Kingdom. They suggested an enemy broadcast reporting a landing at Calais might well be a "kite."

At first there was some belief the porported broadcast might have been a hoax, but later the garbled-version explanation seemed the right one.

The report of the supposed German broadcast spread from Toronto by cable and wireless around the world. Commercial radio stations broke into regular programmes to carry the news report.

"A report sent to the Dominion Meteorological Bureau at Toronto from a northern weather station re-

Warns Swedes To End Trade With Germany

STOCKHOLM, April 13 (AP)—Britain and the United States demanded in a note delivered to the Swedish Foreign Office today that Sweden halt export to the Axis of ball bearings and the raw materials and machines used in making the bearings, it was disclosed tonight.

The United States Minister, Herschel V. Johnson, delivered the note. The diplomatic action was a direct follow up to Secretary of State Cordell Hull's recent warning to neutrals to quit trading with Germany and her allies.

Before this formal diplomatic representation was announced, a Swedish Foreign Office spokesman termed Hull's speech warning neutrals to break trade relations with Germany "A surprising blast," but said Sweden intended to fulfill her commercial agreement with the Axis.

PROTEST NOTE IS CONFIRMED

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP).—An Anglo-American note presented to the Stockholm Foreign Office today is believed here to have protested particularly against Swedish export to Germany of ball bearings, vital for military and industrial equipment.

The State Department would not comment on the Swedish News Agency's announcement of the note's delivery, and there was no official hint as to its content.

It is known, however, that export of Swedish ball bearings to Germany has been a particular thorn in the side of the Allies, now engaged in efforts to cut down on the economic aid the Nazis have been receiving from neutrals.

Bearings are so vital to the Nazi war machine that military authorities considered the bombing of the German roller-bearing industry at Schweinfurt last Fall a major victory even though it cost 60 United States heavy bombers.

Swedish export of machine tools to Germany is also high on the list of Allied objections.

Charges Dismissed

SEATTLE, April 13 (AP).—Government claims of damages and charges of war fraud in cost plus contracts against three Seattle shipyards were dismissed in Federal court here today after the yards paid $10,200 settlement because of "patriotic motives," though they denied the Governments accusations.

The defendants were the Associated Shipbuilders, Lake Union Drydock & Machine Works and Puget Sound Bridge & Dredging.

The companies were accused of making irregular charges to the Government on cost plus contracts and of using Government labor and materials for private benefit.

Germans Mine Italian River

NAPLES, April 13 (AP).—Battle-front reports today said the Germans appeared to be regrouping their forces in the Garigliano sector, a manoeuvre first noted last week, while German engineers seemed to be mining the upper reaches of the Garigliano River. Allied reconnaissance was met with brisk attack.

The Anzio beachhead continued in lull except for artillery duelling. In Eastern Italy, German attacks against a sector held by Indian formation of the British Eighth Army were beaten back with casualties.

Two German patrols were broken up near Tollo (a section where Canadian troops have been operating) and mortar fire was directed against German machine guns south of Orecchi, dispersing two more patrols in that area of the Adriatic sector.

TO EXCHANGE ENVOYS

WELLINGTON, N.Z., April 13 (CP).—Acting Prime Minister D. G. Sullivan announced today that the Governments of Russia and New Zealand had agreed to establish diplomatic relations and to exchange envoys.

British Hold India Front

NEW DELHI, April 13 (AP).—British and Indian troops have driven the Japanese from a hill position northwest of Imphal in bitter hand-to-hand fighting and are engaging the invaders in a "battle of the clouds" outside Kohima, it was announced today as the Japanese pressed their attacks on the two main Allied bases in Eastern India.

The disclosure the enemy had lost a position in the foothills northwest of Imphal made it evident that city of some 90,000 in the centre of the fertile Manipur Plain now virtually has been surrounded by the Japanese. Only to the west of the city has action not been officially reported.

Secretary of War Stimson said in Washington Allied troops hold all strong points outside Imphal and that "substantial reserves of men and weapons are available" to the defenders.

Stiff fighting was reported raging in the Naga Hills just north of Kohima, where the Japanese had established a road block on the 35-mile highway between Kohima and the supply station of Dimapur on the vital Bengal-Assam Railway.

As a result of Allied counter-attacks, the Japanese had not been able to resume their assault on Kohima itself since they were thrown back with losses in their first charge last week-end. Kohima is 60 miles north of Imphal, and the Japanese are firmly across the road between the two big bases.

SEATTLE, April 13 (AP).—Puget Sound Power & Light Company today rejected the $90,000,000 offer made for its widespread electrical system by Dr. Paul J. Raver, Bonneville power administrator, on behalf of the Seattle Municipal Light System and Public Utility Districts.

Puget Power directors turned down the offer, President Frank McLaughlin announced, because "it did not constitute a valid proposal and the price named was grossly inadequate."

U.S. May Authorize Share in Cost of Link to Alaska Road

WASHINGTON, April 13 (CP).—Representative Warren Magnuson (Dem., Wash.), chairman of the Alaska International Highway Commission, said today if Congress extends the life of the commission a bill will be introduced to authorize payment of the United States' share of a proposed $12,000,000 road running from Prince George, B.C., to connect with the Alaska Highway in the Whitehorse area of the Yukon.

The commission expires next June 30, and Magnuson said after a conference with War Department officials he would introduce a bill extending its life.

He said Army officers told him they could see no reason for a conflict between the commission and the Army over construction of additional highway outlets to Alaska.

Magnuson said the new highway bill would be sponsored by Delegate Anthony Dimond of Alaska. British Columbia already had authorized the payment of her $6,000,000 share.

NO EFFECT ON B.C. UNDERTAKING

Any action taken by the United States Government to assist in construction of a road linking Prince George with the Alaska Highway in the Whitehorse area of Yukon Territory will have no effect on British Columbia's present undertaking to connect Prince George with the Peace River country, via the Pine Pass Route, it was said in high Government circles tonight.

At one time the proposal to build a road from Prince George to Watson Lake via Finlay Forks at a cost of $18,000,000 was discussed, the United States, Dominion and Provincial Governments each to bear one-third the cost. This proposal got no further than the discussion stage, and last month the British Columbia Legislature voted $500,000 for surveys, location, construction and other works incidental for the Pine Pass link which will cost $6,000,000.

This road already is built to Tudyah Lake, 100 miles north of Prince George. From there it will run northeast through the Pine Pass, eastward to Commotion Creek and thence to Dawson Creek, 274 miles from Prince George.

BULLETINS

IN HARD FIGHTING

LONDON, April 13 (CP).—A Yugoslav Army of Liberation communique said tonight that Partisans of Marshal Tito (Josip [illegible]) soldiers in one sector and reported that hard fighting had taken place in Slavonia, Eastern Bosnia and Serbia.

MINE BALTIC WATERS

STOCKHOLM, April 13 (CP.-Reuter's).—Allied bombers have begun extensive mining of the Baltic outside Swedish territorial waters, according to a usually reliable source. It is considered in Stockholm that the operation is intended to block shipping routes to German ports and prevent Swedish war material shipments from arriving.

Mothers of Healthy Babies Will Share in $45,000 Fund

Trust fund of $45,000 established by the will of John Newberry Hatch for annual awards to the nine healthiest babies of the Free Baby Clinic here will be discussed this morning at a meeting of the health committee at the City Hall.

The will provides that this unique bequest be invested in Dominion of Canada 3 per cent bonds, and the interested distributed annually among the nine babies who have shown the greatest improvement in health during the preceding 12 months. All must have attended the Free Baby Clinic, and the awards are to be made on the recommendation of Dr. R. Felton, Victoria medical health officer, and the superintendent of the V.O.N.

The mother of each of the nine babies is to receive one-ninth of the income. To be eligible, the mother must be English-speaking, white, have resided within 20 miles of Victoria and have at least four living children. Moreover, the income of the parents must not exceed $2,400 during the year for which the award is given.

Mr. Hatch also left several other bequests to charity, including an endowment fund of $10,000 for a scholarship available to the students of Victoria High School and Oak Bay High School, who have shown aptitude in English history and English literature. This will enable them to continue at Victoria College or at the University of British Columbia. To the Boy Scouts, Mr. Hatch left $10,000, and to Fairbridge Farm School the sum of $5,000.

F. E. Winslow, manager of the Royal Trust Company, who are trustees, will discuss details of the first trust fund with civic authorities at this morning's meeting.

Soviets Clear Three-Fourths Of Crimea; Troops Within 25 Miles of Port of Sevastopol

Three Large Cities, 600 Towns Fall to Red Army During Day

LONDON, April 13 (AP).—In the sixth day of a brilliant reconquest of the Crimea, the Red Army captured in rapid succession today the big ports of Feodosiya and Yevpatoriya and the capital of Somferopol, clearing the shattered German and Romanian defenders from about three-fourths of the peninsula and thrusting within 25 miles of the great port of Sevastopol, chief prize of the campaign, Moscow announced tonight.

More than 600 other Crimean towns fell during the day to three speeding Soviet columns, while prisoners taken up to last night numbered 20,000 with today's bag yet to be counted, a Soviet communique said.

Premier-Marshal Stalin announced the capture of the three large cities in three successive orders of the day issued within two hours. Moscow's cannon tonight roared three separate victory salutes that lasted three hours.

On the other far-flung Russian battle sectors, there was a comparative pause except southwest of Odessa, where the Russians captured the railhead of Oviodopol and drove the Germans across the Dnestr Estuary.

MAIN STRONGPOINT OF AXIS DEFENCES

Stalin described Simferopol as "the main strongpoint of enemy defences guarding the pass to ports of the southern coast of the Crimean Peninsula," suggesting the way now stood wide open for historic vengeance at Sevastopol, which fell to the Germans and Romanians in July, 1942, after an eight-month siege.

Convalescent Home Will Be Ready in May

Between 30 and 40 convalescent members of the R.C.A.F. will be admitted next month to the clubhouse at Royal Colwood Golf Club, which has been converted into a nursing home, it was disclosed yesterday by F. E. Winslow, chairman of Victoria Branch of Wartime Convalescent Homes.

The clubhouse was taken over several months ago by Wartime Convalescent Homes, and leased to the R.C.A.F., which undertook to carry out alterations. The building will be returned to the club after the war, and in the meantime temporary quarters are being constructed for golfers.

Mr. Winslow pointed out the new convalescent home was part of a chain across Canada where members of the R.C.A.F. will be nursed back to good health amid pleasant surroundings. It will accommodate 60 airmen, and a competent staff of nurses and doctors is to be employed.

Yesterday Mr. Winslow received a cheque for $2,000 from the British War Relief Society, Inc., Canadian (Maple Leaf) Division, New York, to be used toward the cost of a swimming pool near the building.

A letter from John B. How, vice-chairman, stated:

"Our treasurer has permitted me the pleasure of forwarding to you the enclosed cheque for $2,000 to be used for the construction of a swimming pool. We are very pleased to

De Gaulle Committee to Rule Liberated France

LONDON, April 13 (AP).—Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Committee of National Liberation is to be given control of the civil administration of liberated France under an agreement now in the final stages of negotiation between the United States and Great Britain, it was learned tonight.

It is planned that there shall be no Allied military Government in France.

This picture of the French situation was given by an informant directly concerned in the French-Allied question.

The French Committee will be given "military recognition" as the official authority of liberated France, but it will not be accorded diplomatic recognition as the "Government" of France.

This will be accomplished by giving Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander for the Western invasion, a directive empowering him to deal with the Fighting French as civil administrators of France.

The directive will bar any deals with the Vichy regime except to liquidate it. It will, however, have a clause leaving Gen. Eisenhower free to deal separately on a military basis with any resistance group which is disinclined to associate itself with Gen. De Gaulle.

As soon as the territory is freed and no longer is the scene of direct military operations, France be turned over to De Gaulle for administration.

Territory which still is the scene for operations will be governed by the commanding general in that area, regardless of his nationality, who will have French liaison officers carry out his orders.

In the liberated territory the French committee will be able to carry out purges in its civil administration as freely as it sees fit, and as long as the action does not interfere directly with military operations Gen. Eisenhower will judge whether military operations are being affected by French civilian actions.

Hit Hollandia In Major Raid

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, April 14 (Friday) (AP).—Well over 200 American bombers and fighters hit Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, Wednesday with 322 tons of bombs and 89,000 rounds of machine-gun and cannon fire, sinking a 2,000-ton freighter and setting fire to nine smaller vessels.

Fighters, which covered a formidable force of heavy and medium bombers, shot down eight enemy planes and damaged ten of 20 Japanese fighters which gave battle over the badly hammered base.

Capt. Richard I. Bong, of Poplar, Wis., accounted for two of the American kills, giving him a new American record of 27 enemy planes downed in air combat.

The presence of enemy planes and ships at Hollandia indicated the Japanese had rushed in replacements after the 500-ton obliteration bombing of April 2 which completed the destruction of an air fleet there.

Says Rome Raided

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP).—The German-controlled Rome radio said today Allied planes had made two attacks on the outskirts of the city, one in the morning and one about midday.

The broadcast, reported by the United States Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service, said that in the morning attack the planes machine-gunned trucks from a low altitude after unloading their bombs.

Campaign for Kuriles Opens

PEARL HARBOR, April 13 (AP).—A Spring aerial offensive against the Kurile Islands, enemy bases nearest Tokio to be bombed by United States warplanes, apparently has opened, with attacks for three consecutive days against that island chain northeast of Japan.

Four islands felt the sting of American air power yesterday, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced today, the largest number to come under the air lash in a single day.

They included Shashikotan, a bleak spot of storm-bound land that had never before been raided. The others were Paramushiro, Shumushu and Matsuwa, the latter representing the closest approach to Japan proper, being about 1,000 miles from Tokio.

Navy search planes which struck at Paramushiro and Shimushu before dawn obtained hits on airfields, starting fires. Light ground fire was encountered. None of the planes was reported damaged.

$9,000,000 Loan Quota on Island

The provincial general canvass quota for Vancouver Island is set for the Sixth Victory Loan at $9,000,000. It has been broken down to the various units as follows:

Greater Victoria	$5,700,000
Lower Vancouver Island Rural	350,000
Cowichan District	725,000
Courtenay-Comox	850,000
Nanaimo	800,000
Alberni-West Coast	540,000
Ladysmith	140,000

While the quota for the province has again been set at $49,000,000, it has been definitely stated by Ottawa that anything less than $60,000,000 from general canvass from British Columbia will be regarded as disappointing. This would indicate an objective in round figures in excess of the unit quotas of 25 per cent.

Navy Secretary Knox Says Conflict "Far From Won"

TORONTO, March 13 (CP).—The war United States Navy Secretary Frank Knox warned tonight "is far from won."

In fact "the period of greatest sacrifice still lies ahead," he said at a dinner connected with Canada's Sixth Victory Loan, which opens April 24. The two major Axis powers still hold their main fortresses intact and the roads to Berlin and Tokio will be "long and bloody."

The Navy Secretary, introduced by Canada's Navy Minister Macdonald, conceded great encouragement was to be found in the current trend of the war, "with the initiative firmly in the hands of the Allies." But he reminded his listeners there had been "those misguided prophets who predicted victory by last Christmas and immediately began to turn their thoughts to post-war periods."

Now is the time, he said, for the peoples of the United Nations to put forth "our utmost effort (while) we have the Hun on the run. . . We can do no less than our best. . . We cannot—we must not—let down."

For those at home to relax their war effort at this point would be "a species of treason," Mr. Knox said. He likened the Allies' present position to that of a prize-fighter who has driven his opponent to the ropes and prepares to "swing from the floor" and land the knock-out.

Mr. Knox praised accomplishments of the Royal Canadian Navy in battling the U-boat menace and in assisting to convoy some 50,000 ships across the North Atlantic.

He also noted Canadian naval exploits in the invasion of North Africa, Sicily and Italy, along the convoy route to Russia and in the recapture of the Aleutian Islands.

of the Realm, and then only when Rome is captured, The Times' Naples correspondent says this is at least one step towards uniting the democratic parties and may enable them to co-operate with the Government once it is made representative of the Italian people.

Some of the democratic group wanted the King's immediate abdication but he wishes to return to Rome as King before relinquishing his royal powers.

There is still a strong feeling among democrats that Badoglio ought to resign as a preliminary to the formation of a real coalition Government.

Italian Campaign Heavy Drain on Axis Manpower

NAPLES, April 13 (CP).—The Italian campaign, which began with an avalanche of Allied troops swarming over Southern Italy in less than a month, has become but a bleeding sore.

Some Allied generals say it is bleeding the Germans. But in its present stage it is bleeding the Allies also, balked as they are at Cassino, on the Garigliano River and the Anzio beachhead.

Some of the generals are hopeful the campaign still will play a part in the defeat of Hitler similar to that of the Peninsular Campaign in the downfall of Napoleon, when Wellington landed in Spain and drained the French military strength for the final blow at Waterloo.

Last Fall when the Sangro and Volturno Rivers were reached, two solid tourses were open to the Allies: A big-scale drive up the peninsula, or contentment with Southern Italy from which to dominate the Central Mediterranean and bomb the Germans. Washington and London decided on a third course.

The conquest of Rome was desired for political, moral and religious prestige at home and abroad. Allied forces in Italy were ordered to advance on Rome.

In doing so the Fifth and Eighth Armies ran into an almost solid wall of rugged mountains stretching from the Tyrrhenian to the Adriatic Sea.

Italian resistance and sabotage proved less effective than had been promised by Badoglio; air support proves less effective than was expected in some cases; and despite steady aerial battering of Nazi supply lines, it has not yet cut off the flow sufficiently to make the Germans pull back.

It was believed that by the time of the Anzio landing the Germans would have been pushed out of Cassino and fighting would have progressed into the Frosinone area, 25 miles northwest and that much nearer Anzio.

The attack on Cassino in mid-January failed, but it was decided to go ahead with a landing at Anzio anyway, in the hope it would compel the Germans to pull a disastrous number of troops away from Cassino.

The landings at Anzio were a success, took the Germans by surprise and apparently disrupted them somewhat. But not for long. They were able to throw a big containing force around the beachhead without any apparent weakening at Cassino.

Net achievements since the occupation of Naples might be listed as tying up 19 German divisions and inflicting considerable casualties on them, but at considerable loss to the Allied forces. It would be equally true to say the Germans in Italy are tying up the Fifth and Eighth Armies—or at least all of them above the holding force that would have been necessary if the line had been established north of Naples and no attempt made to go to Rome.

War Raffles Are Discussed By City Police Commission

Victoria's war charity raffles came under fire again at yesterday's meeting of the police commission for the second time in two months, with the discussion lasting 30 minutes. No action was taken by the board.

Commissioner Burges J. Gadsden, who at an earlier meeting failed to get support for his resolution to ban all raffles after April 15, brought up the subject.

In reopening the question, the commissioner asked that the Criminal Code be read, and this was done. He commented: "We are allowing these things to go on and they are contrary to the Criminal Code. We are permitting the law to be broken."

Mayor McGavin, commission chairman, answered: "If you want to give the chief orders to shut them down, go ahead. They are being conducted everywhere in Canada for the purpose of raising money to win the war."

Commissioner Gadsden commented: "For the Government to shut its eyes to these things is wicked. They should either change the law or stop it." He favored communicating with the Attorney-General on the question and "putting him on the spot."

Mayor Andrew McGavin said he would not be a party to "putting anybody on the spot," and Commissioner Christie added that she agreed with the Mayor.

Stating that he was in sympathy with the war effort and was doing his share to support it, Commissioner Gadsden claimed that people were being paid commissions to sell tickets, and that only a percentage of the proceeds was going to charity. To which the Mayor replied: "You cannot expect men to stand on the streets all day and work for nothing."

Mayor McGavin expressed the opinion that it was one of the easy ways of raising money for the war effort. "The police commission was not behind the plan. We cannot approve of breaking the law," he asserted.

Commissioner Christie expressed herself as being opposed to raffles for private gain, but felt was charities should be exempt. "You cannot expect the chief to go around and lock up everybody conducting raffles," Mrs. Christie commented.

There was some suggestion of approaching the Minister of Justice to have the Criminal Code amended. With Commissioner Gadsden reiterating that he wished to put himself on record as opposing raffles, the discussion closed.

Chief of Police J. A. McLellan had nothing to say when asked for comment.

DROP PLAN FOR PARK POLICEMAN

After being advised by Chief McLellan that a regular member of the force is posted to Beacon Hill Park in the afternoons and evenings during the Summer, and that motorcycle constables and prowler cars made periodical visits during the day and night, the commission took no steps to hire a special parks constable.

Commissioner Gadsden said he was on the Parks Board last year when the matter was discussed, and the police chief commented that Parks Superintendent Warran had been after a special constable for some time.

Correspondence on the matter from the Corps of Commissionaires and City Council was read, and after hearing the chief's report and his remarks that it would be impossible to eliminate damage entirely, the commission took no further action.

CITIZENS ASKED TO CO-OPERATE

Commissioner Christie suggested that the citizens be asked to co-operate with the police in curtailing damage to city parks by reporting such incidents immediately.

Commissioner Gadsden brought up the matter of broken beer bottles on Dallas Road, and Commissioner Christie spoke of the glass on the streets. Mayor McGavin blamed pocket "mickeys" for a lot of the glass.

Tender of Gordon Campbell, Ltd., of $1,933.40 for new police uniforms was accepted. It covered 43 complete uniforms and ten overcoats.

Commissioners approved the recommendation of the chief that Inspector Arthur Bishop, who is due for superannuation on May 17, be retired and hired again on a monthly basis. In answer to a question, the chief said Bishop's salary was $157.50 from the department, and an additional $100 monthly from the A.R.P.

The commission was advised that their recommendation for a 10 per cent salary increase for all members of the department, retroactive to February 1, had been forwarded to the estimates committee of the City Council.

Monthly report of the department as submitted by Chief J. A. McLellan was adopted. Commissioner Gadsden felt that personal remarks from the police head should be made on the report, with recommendations on which the commission might be able to help the department.

Council of Social Agencies wrote saying they had no notification of the meeting, but as they wished to appear before the board to discuss automatic vending machines, they will be invited to attend the next meeting.

Police court fines for the month of March were $2,416.50, with costs of $23.94, making the total collected $2,440.44. Conviction orders made totaled 302, and the patrol wagon made 249 runs.

There were no automobile fatalities during the month, but eight persons were seriously injured in accidents, and a like number were less seriously injured. Forty-three written reports of accidents were filed with the department.

Eight juveniles were charged with a total of seven indictable offences. One girl was charged as incorrigible and committed to a school. A total of 1,036 reports received attention during the month.

Value of stolen property reported was $1,482.36, of which $400.65 had been recovered. Lost property was valued at $1,230.80, of which $516.50 had been found.

participated in that long defence are in the forefront of the advancing armies today, determined to make good the words of "Sevastopol," one of Russia's most popular war songs:

"The Germans will pay with black blood for each metre of our devastated land;

"We protected our city with love, and with stones in our hearts we left it."

From newly-liberated Simferopol the road and railway rise into mountainous country between the Salgir and Alma Rivers, then dip into the valley between the Central and Northern Crimean Ranges—country that could lend itself to defence by determined men.

FIFTH OF ORIGINAL GARRISON CAPTURED

The Russian announcements and front-line dispatches, however, indicated Axis troops were in no mood for such a stand. More than one-fifth of the original garrison, estimated at about 100,000, have been captured, with thousands of others killed.

Alternatives of flight by sea to Romania or of a protected stand at Sevastopol both seemed waning. Yet, as recently as the firs. of the week, the Germans were reported reinforcing the Crimea. Today a dispatch to Red Star, the Soviet army paper in Moscow, said Russian airmen had sighted and attacked "caravans of enemy ships" heading away from the Crimea.

Soviet accounts said the Germans were abandoning their allies just as they did the Italians in North Africa, and that German officers, in turn, were abandoning their own men in the mad scramble to get away.

The German High Command acknowledged that in the Crimea the Russians "are sharply pressing against our movements of detaching."

A late Moscow dispatch said Russian troops were speeding within 25 miles of Sevastopol, chief prize of the entire campaign, without specifying the nearest point, and said the remaining Axis forces were in mad flight to Sevastopol and Yalta in what seemed to be a hopeless effort to escape the Soviet vengeance.

Moscow's cannon roared in an unprecedented victory salute of 7,456 rounds that echoed through the Spring night for three hours.

The Russians gave a dramatic official account of the Crimean victories, relating how the Germans in particular tried to hold Simferopol.

"Special German field gendarmerie tried to stop the German soldiers retreating in panic and [illegible] communique, but these drastic measures did not help. The German command was unable to restore order and organize any kind of prolonged resistance."

Booty listed at Simferopol include 50 trainloads of arms and munitions.

Passes After Illness

Widely known here on the concert platform and in light operatic circles, Mrs. Mamie McQuade, wife of Edward McQuade, 1123 Rockland Avenue, died early yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital, where she had been ill for some time.

Born in Woodstock, Ont., Mrs. McQuade came to Victoria in 1906 with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. George Fraser. At one time her father operated a drug store on Government Street, near the post-office.

During the last war, Mrs. McQuade, then Mamie Fraser, was a featured artist in many light operas and theatrical performances in aid of charitable organizations, chiefly Red Cross.

Many years a member of the choir of St. Andrew's Cathedral, she was also a soloist at Our Lady of Lourdes' Church at the Willows.

She is survived by her husband and an aunt, Mrs. J. M. O'Driscoll, of Vancouver. Funeral will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Home. Interment will be in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Up-Island Civil Defence Improved

Civil Defence in the Courtenay-Comox area this week has been reorganized, with separate committees being set up at Fanny Bay, Union Bay, Royston, Cumberland, Comox and Courtenay, it was announced by W. C. Mainwaring, chairman of the Civilian Protection Advisory Council for British Columbia. He visited the Courtenay area on Wednesday.

"Each of these communities will have its own committee, its own chairman and controller, and so on," he stated. "This has been necessary because these centres are distinctive communities, each with its own difficult problems. We hope the new set-up will develop more efficient organization."

Union Bay had vastly improved fire-fighting preparations by installation of a modern hydrant system which cost $12,000, and which provided hydrants through the residential and business section, Mr. Mainwaring continued. Previously this community faced a difficult pumping problem in the event of fire. William Auchinvole was chairman of the new committee there.

At Courtenay, meeting Mayor M. Stephens and the Courtenay-Comox Civil Defence Committee, Mr. Mainwaring discussed changes in recent months in Civil Defence training to keep the people up-to-date in changes of enemy attack technique, and examined hazards in that area, which he described as "vulnerable."

Invasion Rumor

ported receiving a broadcast saying a landing on the French coast had been made by troops, including a large number of Canadians. The report said it had been received on a wave length of 27.64 megacycles.

SIMILAR REPORT FROM LONDON, ONT.

A similar report came from London, in Western Ontario, where a listener reported hearing a broadcast purporting to say a landing had been made by Canadian forces near Calais.

Another report along the same line came from a listener at Malton, Ont., near Toronto.

Such a transmission had not been heard on regular German stations, and this raised a marked question as to the authenticity of the purported German broadcast.

The Germans in the past have issued fake warnings of invasion a number of times in an effort to trick patriots in the occupied countries to reveal themselves.

The Allies have warned the underground on the continent against such tactics. They are using the radio steadily as a weapon in the war of nerves preceding any invasion attempt.

There was some belief that the report of a Canadian-led invasion below Calais might have been transmitted from an Allied station in an effort to see what Nazi manoeuvres would be carried out to meet such a threat.

Prime Minister Churchill warned the Allies in a speech March 26 that "in order to deceive and baffle the enemy, as well as to exercise the (Allied) forces, there will be many false alarms, many feints and many dress rehearsals."

REPORT BROADCAST THROUGHOUT WORLD

NEW YORK, April 13 (CP).—Radio stations throughout the United States tonight broke into commercial programmes or carried in their regularly scheduled news summaries the Toronto report of a number of Canadian listeners hearing a German shortwave radio report of an Allied landing on the northern coast of France.

All stations, however, qualified the report by saying it should be taken with reserve, pointing out it well could be a Nazi trick to lure French patriots into the open or, possibly, an Allied broadcast intended to confuse the enemy. The National Broadcasting Company appended to its summary the report of its shortwave listening staff that no regular German broadcast carried the assertion.

The Associated Press and other news and radio-service agencies carried the report in full.

The Associated Press, Ltd., British affiliate of The Associated Press, Reuter's News Agency and other agencies cabled the story to Britain and throughout the world.

NO SIGNS OF UNUSUAL ACTIVITY

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP).—No signs of unusual activity were reported at either the United States Navy or War Departments tonight in the wake of a purported German broadcast that a force of Canadians was landing on the French coast.

"It's a surprise to us," said a War Department spokesman, and at the Navy Department everything was quiet.

Office of War Information monitors listening to customary German broadcasts said the invasion story was not repeated on the programmes they heard.

Knox Address

The Navy Secretary lauded co-operation between Canada and the United States in the field of war production. "We have made a record without parallel in history," he said. "Together, we have wrought a miracle."

He stressed the need for continuation of such Inter-Allied co-operation into the postwar era, particularly between the British Commonwealth of Nations and the United States. This, he said, would be "the indispensable prerequisite of any world understanding that will prevent aggressive wars in the future."

Responsibility for nurturing this relationship among English-speaking peoples lay largely with Canada and the United States, Mr. Knox said. He advised that all similarities, rather than differences, between the British and American peoples be emphasized by writers and public speakers.

For Americans constantly to harp on characteristics of the British which are distasteful to us, and annoy us, constitutes a distinct disservice both to the war and to the cause of peace," he said.

LONDON (CP).—Brig.-Gen. Lord Roundway, 63, died at his Devizes home. The title became extinct with his death.

Anscomb Sees Great Trade Future For Canada, China; Lauds War Work

"Prior to the war, and even during the early stages of it, your people and ours were bound together by business ties of no mean proportions, ties that I am sure after the conflict is over will soon be forged again into a binding link between the two nations," Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Public Works, told the Chinese Detachment of Victoria Civil Defence at a dinner in the Prince Albert Room, Empress Hotel, Thursday night.

The detachment was celebrating its fourth anniversary, and one of the highlights was the presentation of efficiency badges and service chevrons by W. C. Mainwaring, Vancouver, chairman of the Provincial Civilian Protection Advisory Council, and a warning by him that the need of civil defence was greater now that at any time during the war so far.

District Warden Joseph Hope as toastmaster proposed "The King," and Ald. J. A. Worthington proposed "The President of the Chinese Republic." Lincoln Mar voiced appreciation to the guests of honor for their praise of the unit.

Mr. Anscomb emphasized the development of trade from East to West, and forecast a continuing movement toward the Orient.

Possibilities of air traffic were tremendous. Canadian ports in the Pacific, facing China, had become the basis of trade so rapidly expanded in volume prior to the war that the undoubted potentialities of the future needed to be carefully studied.

The minister lauded the tremendous sacrifices that the people in Asia had made over the last decade in the cause of decency and freedom for all people. The contribution was clearly recognized by the Canadian people.

HOPES CANADA WILL SUPPLY CHINESE NEEDS

China was, like Canada, rich in natural resources, and while essentially an agricultural country, would also be a great market for manufactured goods, which he hoped it would be our privilege to supply, Mr. Anscomb asserted.

He mentioned a gift of 1,000 Bren guns and 22 fully-equipped and manned ambulances, and stated that under the Mutual Aid Treaty China would secure from Canada a goodly portion of the products for war from a $100,000,000 lend-lease programme.

The world, he said, had many times paid tribute to the great leader and general, Chiang Kai-Shek, and his gracious lady. Both countries had raised the status of their representatives from ministers to ambassadors, clearly showing to a war-mad world that come what might the friendship and confidence of the peoples were bound together in bonds of steel.

ENVIABLE RECORD IN WAR ACTIVITY

Mr. Anscomb declared the Chinese people in Victoria had an enviable record of war activities. He listed shipyard work, activities in the field of Red Cross, contributions to the Mayor's Fund in the early stages of the Battle of Britain, subscriptions to Victory Loans, which after the next loan would probably amount to $1,000,000, and Civil Defence.

Mr. Hope asserted: "The very fact that we have not felt Japanese aggression in this part of the world is because China is immobilizing more than 1,000,000 men and vast stores of equipment on the Asiatic mainland. The Japanese are a treacherous people and can be expected to attack where they think their enemies are least prepared."

He read letters from Capt. G. R. Bates, Vancouver, chairman of the Provincial Association of Controllers, and Chief Wardens, and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., praising the Chinese of Victoria for their work in Civil Defence.

FINE CONTRIBUTION TO MATERNITY PAVILION

Alderman Worthington spoke of the contribution of between $8,000 and $9,000 made by the Chinese to the Jubilee Hospital maternity pavilion fund, and praised their Civil Defence work.

Until recently, said Mr. Mainwaring, the Japanese were not particularly concerned with the Pacific Coast, but as soon as the Allies started a more intense offensive then we become important to them. He mentioned targets in Victoria and Vancouver which would be considered vital by the Japanese, and upon which they would be prepared to expend lives and planes. High explosives against specific targets and incendiaries against general targets could be expected.

Civil Defence training would be of immense value, Mr. Mainwaring declared. Preparations made by the Chinese of Victoria were valued highly.

Winners of Civil Defence awards were Deputy District Warden Dan Won, Chu Sing Hor, Dick Chu, Lum Sack Yee, Joe Chow, Albert Mar, District Deputy Warden Eric Joe, Hugh Joe, Ping Quon, Matthew Bong, Herbert Quon, Lincoln Mar, Herbert Chan, Frank Mar, District Warden Joseph Hope, Mrs. C. Y. Jung, Rev. Chow Ling, Wah Quon, Chow Song Wing, Quon Sue Sang, Dan Yuen, Lee Kim, Lee Gan, Mar Wing How, Roy Quon, Ben Mar, John Mar and Roger Lee.

Must Have High National Income

Everything possible must be done to maintain a high level of employment and high production of capital goods such as plant machinery and equipment in the reconstruction period, R. P. Jellett, Montreal, said in an interview yesterday.

Postwar reconstruction under a system of free enterprise is a problem of utmost importance to businessmen of Canada, he said. Co-operating with other countries of the Empire Commonwealth, the Dominion can maintain high production and a high national income, he asserted.

Money for the purchase of capital goods must be furnished by industry itself. Large firms could set aside about 20 per cent of their reserves for depreciation, expending this in plant expansion, in renewing machinery and premises and in new enterprise, Mr. Jellett stated. If they saved the money it was liable to drift into bonds, where it would lie unused and would tend to bring on a depression.

"No increase in the consumption of consumer goods has any great effect on the level of employment. The number engaged in their production and in packaging and retailing does not vary much from prosperous times to the depth of depressions. Chief cause for unemployment is the curtailment in factory expansion and equipment, or the production of heavy goods," he declared.

Business, he said, must make venturesome use of capital.

"Keep capital moving," Mr. Jellett urged. "Put it to use producing heavy goods, renovating and improving premises. We must replace reductions in war orders by an increase in the production of peacetime goods so that no time is lost in conversion, when necessary."

In her war effort, Canada had proved her ability to co-operate with Commonwealth nations. More emphasis on this was necessary in the thinking of public citizens. The Dominion could not be isolated within the Empire if it was to attain greatness, he stated.

Mr. Jellett is accompanied by Mrs. Jellett and their daughter. Breaking the round of business interviews, he spent the afternoon yesterday visiting his son, Cadet David Jellett, who is at Royal Roads Naval College, and will be given a commission this Summer. The cadet plans to make a career in the Navy.

Air Raids

to return to their British bases, the army announced. There were no further reports on the operation of the Italian-based American planes, but the Budapest radio claimed at least 24 aircraft were shot down over Hungarian territory.

The British-based arm of the two-way aerial assault produced the destruction of 76 German planes in air combat and others on the ground, and achieved successful bombing results despite intense anti-aircraft fire and enemy fighter opposition, the army communique said.

A powerful fighter support was provided for the bombers flying from Britain, with more than 1,100 fighters of the United States Eighth and Ninth Air Forces in action.

Of the enemy planes shot down, the fighters accounted for 51, while the gunners on the bombers bagged 25. The fighter pilots also destroyed "a large number" of planes on the ground, the war bulletin said.

The Italy-based 15th Air Force bombers also attacked railway car shops and machine shops adjacent to Gyor, and hit the Tokol airfield and assembly plant 11 miles southwest of Budapest and another airdrome ten miles southeast of the facilities.

Packs of German fighters arose to meet the bomber streams penetrating from the west and south, and stiff air combats developed along the route. Between 750 and 1,000 fighters accompanied the Britain-based formations, and probably about 500 fighters defended the bombers from Italy.

The first crews back from the Schweinfurt job said they fought off the German air force from Frankfurt to the target and part of the way back in a great battle raging from 30 to 45 minutes. At least 180 enemy fighters were counted.

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
A.P. War Analyst

Nazi hopes of halting the Russian Juggernaut at the Galati Gap entrance to the Danubian plain in Romania are reflected in a summary of the east front military situation broadcast by the authorized spokesman for the German High Command, Lieut.-Gen. Kurt Dittmar.

His analysis tends to conform the impression the decisive battle of the Red Army Balkan campaign will come along a 40-mile stretch of the Lower Siret River between Galati and the Carpathian foothills west of Tecuci.

Dittmar challenged rumors Romania and Bulgaria are to be left to their fate. He reported "stiffened" Nazi resistance west of the Prut although admitting the difficulties of establishing "a firmly connected and continuous front line."

Red forces now are in a position to push down both banks of the Prut and Siret. There is no other defence position of any notable strength north of the Galati bend of the Danube although the Galati-Tecuci line has the making of a powerful road-block front.

Once the Nazis have been rolled back behind the Danube-Galati Gap line, leap-frog operations along the coast to gain a foothold in the rear of the lower Danube should be possible. An attempt to turn the sea flank of that line might prove less costly than a frontal attack.

Junior Symphony Promising Group

Making their first public appearance last night at Victoria High School, the Victoria Junior Symphony Orchestra played three numbers with exceptional facility for such young artists, adding an encore after insistent applause. Their sympathetic conductor, Melvin Knudsen, introduced them, remarking on the seriousness with which they had prepared for the evening. Although a bit nervous, they showed a sense of unity and balance which promises much for the future.

Numbers which Mr. Knudsen had selected for their first appearance were wise choices. These were "Choral" (Mendelssohn), "The Three Graces" (Pierson), and the ever-popular "Hearts of Oak" (William Boyce).

Last night's recital was presented by the intermediate group of the Victoria Musical Art Society in collaboration with the Junior Symphony in aid of the Myra Hess Fund, which provides funds for the National Gallery concerts given in the heart of London for war-weary Britishers.

Robin Wood, pianist, who made such an outstanding hit at Stanley Shale's student recital recently, played three piano solos, Sonata in D Major (Scarlatti), "Fugue," by Brahms, and "Sevilla," by the Spanish composer Albeniz. Marie Vowles, well-known Victoria violinist, played Max Bruch's famous Violin Concerto in G Minor, accompanied by Gwen Woolcock at the piano. Winnifred Applegate, soprano, who returned last Fall from a year of study at the Toronto Conservatory of Music, sang "Recit et Air de Lia," from Debussy's "L'Enfant Prodigue," and "Homing," by Teresa del Riego, which was a happier choice.

Pamela Terry and John Beckwith played three two-piano numbers, the Prelude in D Minor, by Bach; the second movement from Mozart's serenade, "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," and Arthur Benjamin's "Jamaican Rumba." Elizabeth Angus and Rita Nevard presented Saint-Saens' "Variations on a Theme of Beethoven" for two pianos.

Medal for Island Man

Sgt. R. O. Debree, R.C.A.F., Parksville, will receive the British Empire Medal when Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward holds an investiture on Saturday afternoon at Connaught Park, Vancouver. Eight other airmen will be honored.

Sgt. Debree's citation reads: "An aircraft when taking off crashed on the airdrome and immediately caught fire. The pilot was unable to extricate himself as his feet were caught. Several people tried to pull him out but gave out when heat became intense. Sgt. Debree with complete disregard for personal safety, and in spite of the intense heat, succeeded in reaching the pilot and with a superhuman effort pulled him clear and carried him to safety. This N.C.O. displayed great courage and determination of the highest order."

Island Army Recruits

Two recruits from Port Alberni, Jennie Rosalie Trent and Marion J. Matthews, joined the C.W.A.C. at Bay Street Armoury during the past week. John Mays Smith, No. 11 Area Signal Coy., volunteered for active service.

Serving Overseas

Sgt.-A.G. Douglas Crowe, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Crowe, 880 Colville Road, is now serving in England. Born here 19 years ago and educated at Esquimalt schools, he was graduated as an air gunner at Mont Joli, Quebec.

Home Saturday

F.O. Richard Fernyhough, R.C.A.F., back in Canada after long overseas service, is to arrive in Victoria on Saturday and will spend a month's leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fernyhough, 422 Boleskine Road. He recently underwent several minor operations in England.

Spends Leave Here

W.O.2 Harold J. Price, R.C.A.F., prominent in lacrosse and softball here before enlisting two years ago, is spending leave from Davidson, Sask., with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Price, 1725 Newton Street.

A pilot graduate from Claresholm, Alta., in December, 1942, he has since been giving elementary flying training. He went to Oaklands School and Victoria High School and for four and one-half years was with the Provincial income-tax branch.

Writes From Italy

Sigmn. Gene H. Tierney, former Colonist printer now with the Canadian Army in Italy, writes of conditions there in a letter posted on April 4. "The weather is warming up," he says, after "plenty of snow and wind."

He describes the poor condition of the people and damage done to buildings. He recently had an attack of jaundice and "looked like a Chinaman for a while, but am now back to normal."

Spring Fete is at St. Ann's, April 20

The annual Spring Fete at St. Ann's Academy will be held by the Senior Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League on April 20. Mrs. Blair Reid will head the convening committee. Plans progressed at the recent annual meeting of the league.

Mother's Day will be celebrated by the league with a Communion breakfast and reunion of C.W.L. members.

Chaplain Rev. Father Lewis McLellan congratulated the members of the league for their outstanding reports at the annual meeting. Report of war work and Red Cross given by Mrs. Roy Kissinger showed service articles knitted and sown; hospitality extended to the forces in the homes, huts, hostels and canteens. A constant stream of parcels was sent to men of the parish serving overseas.

Mrs. Ebbs Canavan, education secretary, referred to the success of the schools and missions on the Island. Mention was given to the school journals of St. Ann's Academy and St. Louis College and the C.Y.O. Torch and Cathedral Bulletin. Missionary exhibits both national and diocesan were a source of interest and inspiration.

Mrs. P. C. Shaw and Mrs. Blair Reid gave a combined report of the housing situation and price bulletins. Mrs. E. Lennax reported 23 members during the year. Mrs. S. Hunter reported for contributions given to the community by the C.W.L. Gifts had been sent to hospitals, nursing homes, and donations sent to Scholarship Award Fund, Sisters of Service and to the league magazine.

What Today Means

ARIES

If April 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to noon, from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 6 to 8 p.m. and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

You have your part to play in today's affairs and you are fully capable of playing it successfully if you will refrain from seeking anyone's assistance to direct your movements or actions. On this occasion your judgment should be as good as anyone else's, so have confidence in it. It might be well to realize that individual tastes differ, so do not take it as a personal affront should anyone disagree with yours. Careless, unbusinesslike transactions seem destined to land a good many people in trouble today, so do not be in too much of a hurry to do things systematically and efficiently. Married, engaged and courting couples will do well to refrain from making hasty decisions today, or jumping too hastily to any kind of a conclusion, if they wish to avoid the possibility of making a grave mistake.

If a woman and April 14 is your birthday, you should never go against the dictates of your conscience, if you would keep your mind free of worries. Some reactionary force within you may cause you to feel tempted on occasions to do things just to be perverse so do what you can to overcome this characteristic. Many admirable qualities ought to endear you to many people, and should be responsible for your enjoying a high degree of popularity. As a newspaper woman, fiction writer, poet, artist, musician, singer, actress, business manager, teacher, designer, broker, public official, doctor, lawyer, purchasing agent, dietitian, secretary, librarian, or through your activity in war work, you are apt to become a financial success and the recipient of a flattering amount of recognition. Through marriage, apparently, will come your greatest happiness and the fulfillment of some of your fondest hopes.

The child born on April 14 should never be given a silly or evasive reply to a sensible question for through asking them this youngster can acquire an invaluable amount of useful information. Children born on this date are, as a rule, very versatile, and it is frequently due to their versatility that they later on frequently achieve an unusual amount of success in their chosen trade or profession.

If a man and April 14 is your natal day, you owe it to yourself never to be satisfied until you are doing the kind of work you feel qualified to do. Remember that there is always a ways and means to attain a desired end, but it is up to you to find them. As a composer, author, journalist, financier, inventor, accountant, scientist, educator, chemist, dentist, doctor, lawyer, clergyman, actor, business executive, salesman, manufacturer, merchant, agriculturist, political leader, public official, or as a member of the army, navy or air force, an interesting, profitable and successful career should be ahead of you.

Power Politics

In spite of much that has been written to the contrary upon the subject, the chief problem facing civilization after this war will be to put out the fires of an awful conflict, to compose a physically tattered world and to set men's feet again astride the path of true advancement, with justice, equity and security for peoples. It is not possible that the world will move at once into a world democracy, a world parliament, or even to instantaneous acceptance of international law by arbitration. While the fires are cooling slowly there will be need for common agreement among the world's leading victorious powers as to the use of that power.

The vision of Utopia has always pleased man, but something stronger than a vision must fill the gap between the cessation of conflict and the advent of some degree of world order and amity that will work. In a sense, the victors must be the guardians of world peace, until world peace is strong enough to stand upon its own feet. To raise the cry of power politics and balance of power against that is to deny a state of facts which will most surely exist. Physical ability to compel order will be the first requirement of the postwar world. Only the strongest of nations on the United Nations' side will be powerful enough to ensure that.

Much, then, that has been said or written about an inglorious return to the balance of power method of international settlement is being advanced with the best of heart, no doubt, but on the assumption of facts which will not exist and which may not come into being for a considerable period after this world conflict is over. We may as well face it now that force, and only force, will ensure the world against an early and certain preparation on the part of the vanquished for "a bigger and better war." We may take some comfort from the fact that force will—and must—be used on behalf of humanity and not against it; not to foster but to eliminate war at its source. Order must precede understanding, and understanding, amity, among the peoples of the world.

Nothing could be more fatal after this war than for the world to relax its guard against war and the breeders of war. Smouldering fires will have to be stamped out, and they cannot be put out with a blueprint for Utopia upon paper. A whole generation of young people in enemy countries will have to be re-educated. Nation after nation must be taught to lay aside their suspicions and to adopt the open-faced method of dealing in the new world. The victors must be sponsors for the peace, and not one of them will be able to turn their backs for a moment. That is what Field Marshal Smuts, Lord Halifax and others have really been telling us, each in his own way. Time may prove they were right. This time, peace must be made to stick. Too many brave men have died, to give the world a second chance, to repeat the fatal errors of 1919-1939, chapter for chapter and verse for verse. Peace, like war, must be won.

Reinforcements

In the fifth year of war it is a disconcerting circumstance that makes it necessary for a well-tried warrior like Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., to appeal publicly to men in the home defence forces to volunteer for overseas service. The Pacific Command chief is reported as telling a Calgary Vimy dinner audience that there are many men in uniform not volunteering to go overseas, having been told, he says, that they have done their duty by serving two years on the Pacific Coast and by taking Kiska.

It should not have needed General Pearkes' warning that the storming of the Fortress of Europe may be a costly operation, and that every possible support must be given to the Canadian Army in Great Britain now waiting the great day of invasion. It is an elementary fact plain to all intelligent people that once our army goes into action on the Western Front, every available man in a khaki uniform should be ready and waiting to reinforce those who make the initial attack. In no other way can the Canadian Army do its full part.

General Pearkes is no mere orator. He is a famous Canadian soldier, who knows at first-hand exactly whereof he speaks. If on the eve of the invasion he finds it necessary to plead for more men for overseas duty the need is unmistakably there. The means to supply that need are right here in Canada. Some 60,000 well-trained men are in khaki uniform, limited for general service only by their classification as home defence troops.

All that is necessary to make them available as overseas reinforcements is for Prime Minister Mackenzie King to give effect to the clear-cut mandate he received from the Canadian people two years ago, by conscripting the home defence forces for service anywhere. It is up to him whether or not the Canadian Army shall be able to draw on this large and available force of trained men in order to keep it in being once the battle is joined. As General Pearkes says, it is not now or never, it is now! At this late stage in the war the home defence of Canada rests in the hands of those waiting to take the offensive in Europe.

Overseas Mail

In an official explanation offered this week, the Postmaster-General of Canada, Hon. W. P. Mulock, K.C., explains why Canadian mail addressed to men and women in the services overseas is subjected to uncertain and at times extended delays. Some of these delays, he states, are the direct result of war conditions. Others have to do with faulty addressing on the part of the general public. Some, in neither group, arise from a combination of circumstances.

In the third-named group, Mr. Mulock lists the following causes as likely to be responsible for overseas mail being at times retarded in delivery: "Lack of transport, both air and surface, on account of the imperative and incessant requirements for vital operations; adverse trans-Atlantic weather, usually prevalent in Winter months; and necessary movement of personnel from unit to unit, and location to location, to meet the exigencies of active operations, and the need of tracing men and redirecting their mail."

There is very little doubt about the delays that have occurred at times. The sole point now is the matter of a cure. If the Postal Corps is given sufficient help perhaps some of the delay can be eliminated, particularly where office handling is concerned. If the public will mail early and often, and will moreover see to it that the address is correct, then through co-operation our boys may be able to get their mail a little faster in the line. The Postmaster-General of Canada is promising to do his part. Now let all of us do ours!

The Black Sea

The sustained advance of Russian troops into the Crimea from the north and east, primed by the fall of Kerch and the penetration of the land mouth of the isthmus, points to the eventual ejection of the Germans from the Black Sea. The Crimea itself is the key piece in the whole area. In German hands, it has been a thorn in the side of the United Nations. If it is repossessed by our Allies, and that may come shortly, the Crimea will be the lever with which Nazi influence will be pried loose from its last outpost in the East.

The Black Sea is the open front of the Balkan nations still in the German fold. A blockade of those ports would nullify the use of the Danube for some 300 miles from its mouth, tighten the United Nations' hold on the Eastern Mediterranean, ensure uninterrupted communications through the Middle East with Russia, and all but isolate Turkey in what has become her somewhat artificial neutrality. It would do more. It would supply Germany's Balkan satellites with abundant proof that their position in the once-vaunted New Order is no longer tenable, and shorten the war to that extent.

From current dispatches, the world will not have long to wait for a decision in the Crimea. The Germans are so placed there that they are fighting at hazard now, with their main line of communications open to attack. It is not likely that they will stand for long on a crumbling flank, or even that they could do so. The reopening of the Black Sea, when it comes, will have an important bearing on the war, and it will complete the ring around fortressed Europe. Inside of that ring, as we have been warned, there are still numbers of Nazi divisions; but the ring and the strain on the enemy are growing tighter. Every turn of the screw helps. The reconquest of the Crimea, when it is achieved, will be a signal victory in itself.

Seen in Passing

The spectacle of English-speaking peoples touring the world after this war, and trying to speak the language of the country in which they find themselves, with the gazetteer of some National Geographical Society as their sole guide, is not one to be contemplated without certain qualms. We are reminded instantly of the fate of foreign-language teachers when they visit those languages at home. The results have seldom been happy.

Bombed Cottage

The staring walls, with dust-filled wounds,
Could not speak of their ordeal:
These walls had sheltered her from cold,
Dispelled solitude with their nearness.

She wandered from room to room.
Rain splattered through the gaping roof.
Household goods, not long ago familiar,
Were now askew, and strange.
Windows were but empty sockets
Chiding her wherever she went.

Trembling,
Placing her bundles here and there
Quietly,
She dare not make a noise in this—
So still.

She kindled a fire.
Cheerfulness came out of hiding.
Household goods became less vague
And half-remembered things
Odd, she thought,
That these bits of furniture—
Inanimate things among which she lived—
Should be so resentful of her absence.

But—tomorrow!
This cottage, this humble hearth,
Will have forgiven her neglect,
It shall belong to her once more.

Alaska Highway

LAST LAP—WHITE HORSE—FAIRBANKS

Leaving White Horse Sunday, March 13. In a collision between anger and regret, these writings about the mighty Alaska Highway must hurriedly end. An unexpected summons to visit (with certain Government officials and members of the Fourth Estate) a distant famous island has just been received, and contingently, the things this pen would like to try to picture for you are abruptly doomed.

Hence, those 600 odd miles of baffling tortuous highway through the mountains linking White Horse to Fairbanks must be left in their cold grandeur, unwritten and unsung, beneath their Arctic skies. The magic of the lakes, the rivers and those snow-shrouded crags and canyons, too, must be left in their icy desolation—as must also any accounting of camps, bridges, land slides and pieces of derelict equipment, etc., that here and there, to right and left, tell tales of toil and courage along that dinosaurian blitz-built highway.

That gap—White Horse to Fairbanks—was actually covered in one wild macabre charge. At about mid-day (out of White Horse) Major Bishop came careening down the bus-aisle, enquiring, "How 'bout it, boys? Shall we push on through to Fairbanks all night—or, how about it?" . . . and the "boys," to a "boy," accorded staunchly, "O.K., 'Bish'; open her up and let her roll!"

Little did those "boys" know what lay before them. To begin with, the first place chosen for lunch proved bleakly but contumaciously just out of lunch. It was Sunday, the big noontide feed was over, and the cooks were either snoozing or else hiding in their huge ovens. We finally got our snouts into the trough about 5:15 p.m. in a small civilian camp 100 miles northward, and then hardly 10 miles further on the bus broke down again—that old trouble with the gear-shift—and all hands had to either mooch shivering up and down the highway or twist miserably in their seats for at least one full-some hour.

Drivers Lee and Wally at long last announced, "O.K.—All aboard, please," and again we began edging further northward.

At about 7 p.m. a stop was made for supper—two young officers in charge there fed us with princely graciousness (same as they treated us everywhere along that endless band of snow) and then when practically on the tick of embussing, "A.D.C." Gordon Williams announced that something had gone wrong; certain papers were out of order; we must stop for inspection: this was the Alaskan border.

Puzzled we filed into a hut where an M.P. with the customary "pipe-down-or-I'll-plug-you-looking" gun on his right hip and a corporal began handing out forms. To fill these took at least half an hour, and then came finger-printing. Now finger-printing is where you really discover that to every finger you have fifteen thumbs, and that each thumb works intuitively against each finger. The M.P. grabs your first finger, then inbutts a thumb and vindictively pokes it out of his (the M.P.'s) grasp, and ink smudges everything save the pasteboard form provided for it. Same with the next finger, and the next, and then suddenly the lights went out and everybody growled.

Presently somebody lugged a torch from his hip and the torture proceeded. It took practically one hour and a half to complete this nonsense, and then into the bus again, where driver Wally pronounced saturninely that the gears were more recalcitrant than ever and we'd have to find a spot-welder.

Spot-welders just don't sprout up from the Arctic snows, but about 2 a.m. one such artificer was dragged out of his bunk (about 30 miles ahead) and there we waited, twitching and wriggling and praying to heaven that the bus would either blow up and finish things off stylishly, or that the winged monkeys of Oz would suddenly swoop down, snatch us up, and then waft us off to Fairbanks.

Through the rest of that night—with other fiend-engendered mishaps too numerous to mention—we jerked along miserably, but eventually, at about 1:30 p.m. Monday, began zumming along the outskirts of Fairbanks; and then, one by one, the gallant journalists half-fell out of that disgusting omnibus as it finally chugged to a stop outside the Pioneer Hotel, Fairbanks.

Ride of rides! Tomato-eyed and with noses like ripe purple figs we checked into the "Pioneer" and then slammed our suit cases in our appointed bedrooms. Some flopped on to their beds instantly; others sat hunched in them and began wondering about the possible beer situation, while others began slapping cold water on their faces and presently stepped out to taste the cakes of Fairbanks.

[illegible] went out to reconnoitre. First discovery revealed that the Pioneer Hotel had been completely taken over by the U.S. Army, and second, that it sheltered both males and females. There were pasteboards saying "No men beyond this point," and on the second flight was "No men allowed up this stairway," and so on . . . and it was not, of course—constrictingly hot—and outside it was thawing!

The hotel stood on First Street—parallel with the Chena River—and close by was a bridge of quite fine dimensions.

Fairbanks, of course, is the terminus of the Alaska Highway, and naturally, of the large airport and military installations, there, nothing can be written—by censor verboten.

But the town itself can be pictured without let or hindrance. The streets run First, Second, Third, etc., parallel and up from the Chena, and the main dividing street is named Cushman. You can turn up Cushman (off First) and within a block find buildings as concretely modern as in any small town 1,500 miles south of Fairbanks. Then you can turn right on Second and within two minutes find rows of sag-roofed log cabins, and bulging, old-time clapboard buildings that were built by the sourdoughs that came in 1902 after the Klondike diggings had been scraped clean of "dust" and nuggets.

As to the modern side, the Fairbanks Postoffice and the First National Bank would not look at least out of step with the average similar type of edifice in Portland or Seattle—nor would The Daily News Miner Building or the Nordale Hotel, with its chrome and polished masonry.

On the streets you saw broad-faced Eskimos (quaint and often comely in their native "parkas") shopping like New York debutantes—you could also peek through a saloon window where two or three hooch-happy sourdoughs were doing old-time barn dancing to the strains of a banjo twanged by an Indian with his black hair dangling to his chin.

About every fifth door opens into a saloon in Fairbanks—nor can you take many steps without confronting signs such as "Best Wines, Cheap," or "Cut Rate Liquor Dealer"—also there are the official liquor stores where whisky seemed short, while rum and brandy bent the shelves precariously.

Except for tires, there seems to be no rationing in Fairbanks—just grab what you can, when you can.

There are two newspapers—The Daily News Miner and Jessens Weekly. Also there's a "Piggly Wiggly," numerous outdoor skating rinks, an enclosed swimming tank, two cinemas and a score or so of dance halls.

A Fairbanks oddity was the sight of parked cars—some really good ones—almost buried under snow, whose owners apparently had left them all Winter. For signs of vandalism, etc., I examined some of them very carefully—but surprisingly enough, not a single gadget had been filched or tampered with by anybody—Fairbanks must be honest—in which case salaams to the town known mondially as the Crossroads of the World.

In all, that little town was duly fascinating—and when you walked into a restaurant and saw a waitress peek into a customer's coffee cup and ask "Shall I fill it up again?" . . . well, then you really warmed up to friendly Fairbanks.

Re the intrinsic things of Fairbanks I learned very little; was only there for a day and a half, and the second day was spent mostly in distraction—waiting tensely for word from Major Bishop as to whether or no he could wangle a passage back to Edmonton by one of the A.T.C. plane transports.

But there is an Agriculture College and School of Mines at Fairbanks; also it is the centre of quite an elaborate highway system—notably the Richardson Highway which winds to the coast to Valdez and the Steese Highway, steering north to Circle.

As earlier mentioned, the vast U.S. military installations, etc., can only be "mentioned"—and it must now be "so long" to Fairbanks—and good hunting. For time presses—Brother Bishop has manoeuvred a seat on one side of the big air "transports," and the bag must be packed and the body must butt itself into the army car that waits by the Pioneer Hotel.

On Tuesday, March 15, at about 15 minutes to midnight, the big plane began clipping through the cold, clear night toward White Horse—but within less than two hours it was grounded. "Bad weather south," said the pilot indifferently . . . but that trip and what happened on it is another story.

Briefly summarizing, it seems sad that the Alaska Highway and the Canol Project are now so mercilessly under international controversial fire. They were gargantuan tasks and a fast grown entity (the U.S. Army and a sturdy army of civilian workers) undertook it and did complete them under difficulties seldom shouldered by any mass of men, muskeg and machinery.

Overall, though, it must never be forgotten that at commencement, both the peoples of Canada and America were practically on their knees and wailing for both Canol and the Highway. The Pacific was lost; the Japs were at the front gates of every town from Vancouver, B.C. to San Diego, down to Panama! Help! Hurry! Build that road! And Canol, too—but for God's sake hurry! The Philistines are upon us!

On the strength of that truism alone there should, regardless of cost, be nothing but a happy ending for Canol and the Alaska Highway. It is a masterpiece. It should live forever.

NAPLES, April 13 (AP).—Col. Donald D. Hoover, of Indianapolis, today was made an honorary officer of the Military Division of the Order of the British Empire, for his "exceptional efficiency and keenness" as a censor. The award was handed to Col. Hoover by Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Allied commander in the Mediterranean theatre.

By G.B.

Life comments on Cassino: "Criticism of the Italian campaign is only partly right. It is still too early to judge it in its entirety. Important results have most certainly been achieved there. Italy and the Italian fleet are now out of the war. Air bases within reach of Austria and the Balkans have been secured. Some 20 German divisions are pinned down in Italy, thus making them unavailable for use elsewhere. To criticize strategy requires knowledge of many facts which are familiar only to the Allied High Command. Among such facts are plans for the Second Front, disposition of German troops, quantity of Allied military resources and relationship of the Italian front to a world-wide war. Without possession of this information, nobody can call the Italian campaign a success or a failure." . . . Dyslexia, the medical term for reading difficulties, is reported to be responsible for about 70 per cent of school failures in children between six and 12 years of age. It may stem from glandular unbalance, heart disease, eye or ear trouble, or deep-seated psychological disturbances. . . . King Farouk, 24-year-old King of Egypt, has a coin collection valued at $4,000,000. He also collects stamps, matchboxes and razor blade packages. His name means "One who distinguishes between right and wrong." . . . From a real estate agent: "About 60 Victoria families who must move on April 30 from dwellings that have been sold are unable to secure accommodation. Many landlords refuse families with children because they find it so easy to rent premises that they can select their tenants. Surely it is not a crime to have children? I understand the Balmoral Hotel, which was to have been clubrooms for the C.W.A.C., is now almost unoccupied. It should be an easy matter to provide temporary accommodation there for a number of families." . . . Eric told us he saw a young woman who spends the day putting up snacks at a lunch counter sitting in a rival cafe trying to make up her mind what to eat. That recalls the famous joke of the salesman who called on a restaurant proprietor only to be told: "Oh, he's gone out to eat."

THANKS RETURNED

Sir,—I should be very much obliged if the following letter would kindly be published in the Daily Colonist:

The Czechoslovak National Alliance is once more indebted to Victorians for assistance to the Czechoslovak-Red Cross.

The pupils of Tillicum School, Saanich, generously collected $8.25 in appreciation for the production of a motion picture showing gymnastics executed by the Czechoslovak Sokol Organization.

Collection boxes posted with kind permission at the C.P.R. Telegraph Office, Government Street, and the Government Liquor Store, Humboldt Street, yielded $1.22 and $6.29 respectively. The Czechoslovak National Alliance wishes to extend thanks and appreciation to all concerned.

BILL 37

Sir,—We shall have to go back to the time prior to the Magna Charta and of that weak King John to find anything to equal the degrading Bill which is being presented to our Parliament by Mr. Angus MacInnes. Does he think he can enslave the conscience of the free people of this land! If he does, he has certainly made a mistake. Let him cast his eyes over the water and see what the people of that small Island have given as the price of freedom! Let him remember that we are of the same race, then he will know what we are ready to do and suffer rather than submit to the slavish law which he would like to impose upon us. He may have to get up a campaign to obtain the money to build hundreds of extra jails, for he will find us ready to pay the price if need be.

Whatever happens we will fight for freedom to speak, freedom to write, and freedom to live as we should do with no fear of man to come between our soul and God.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 36 feet to the height of that water as above given.

Health Department Endorses Clean-Up

Adding its endorsation to the clean-up week, Victoria Health Department yesterday issued the following statement:

"The sanitary department of the Board of Health is pleased to co-operate with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its annual clean-up week campaign.

"It is most essential that all citizens keep their premises in a clean and sanitary condition in order to prevent the spread of disease which might impair the health of our armed forces and war workers in our crowded city.

"The Health Department urges all citizens to look around their backyards, cellars and storerooms and to clean up all rubbish and to send to the salvage corps all useful discarded articles. Keep clean and keep healthy."

FOLKESTONE, Eng., April 13 (CP).—Residents of the British southeast coast were awakened today by the sound of gunfire in Dover Strait, suggesting a brush between British and German light naval craft. The firing lasted for about 10 minutes.

MAY STUDY ATTU

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 13 (AP).—Attu, bleak and barren island outpost in the Aleutians, may become an archaeologist's mecca after the war, says Lieut. David Kingman. The first navy chaplain to serve on the island, he said hundreds of ivory relics, skeletons and other items have been dug up by navy construction battalions. Many believe entire villages are buried beneath the several feet of tundra which tops the island, Lieut. Kingman said.

Pie-Coffee Suit

VENTURA, Cal., April 13 (AP).—Claiming he was overcharged for 100 cups of coffee, 100 meals and 40 pieces of pie over a period of five months, R. W. Agnew today filed suit in Superior Court against the Modern Cafe for $14.000.

Agnew's complaint asks $50 for each time he was assertedly charged prices in excess of the O.P.A. ceiling. It alleged the cafe billed him 10 cents for coffee, 75 cents for meals and 15 cents for pie, all of which, it claims, were inferior in size.

Shipwreck Ration New Development

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP).—United States navy scientists disclosed today development of new "candy-type," tablet-form emergency rations for lifeboats and rafts, and declared a day's allotment weighed only half as much as present shipwreck rations of the navy and merchant marine, and was more palatable.

Designed to take up as little space as possible and to furnish food that can be taken with a minimum of difficulty when the mouth is dry, the new ration consists of three different types of tablets:

One of sucrose (sugar) and citric acid to provide fruity components and promote the flow of saliva;

One of sucrose, corn syrup, and citric acid, containing a butterscotch-like material to provide butterfat;

One of sucrose corn syrup and malted milk.

A daily ration consists of tablets totaling about a third of a pound in weight.

The present "abandon ship" ration of the navy—consisting of biscuit, malted milk tablets, pemmican (the old Indian trail food) and chocolate—weighs about two-thirds of a pound.

Researchers of the Navy's Medical Research Institute at Bethesda, Md., reporting their findings in the Naval Medical Bulletin, said the new development would be suitable not only for shipwrecked men, but for those "involved in crashes of aircraft in the wilderness, parachute manoeuvres, or landing operations" where the supply of water may be limited.

Praises Efforts of Local Ration Board

Praise for the efficient and capable manner in which the distribution of the food ration books was carried out by the local ration board was expressed yesterday by O. H. Bell, regional superintendent of rationing, Vancouver, in a letter to Mayor Andrew McGavin.

The communication said, in part: "The distribution of No. 4 ration book has just been completed, and members of your board and secretary and all volunteer workers that took part are to be complimented on the manner in which they have distributed the ration books to almost 100 per cent of the citizens of your community, a service to the individual that cannot be other than appreciated.

"This volunteer effort on the home front, in order that food may be provided for overseas purposes and equitable distribution at home, is a factor in our war effort that everyone in this administration is proud of, and those taking part should be just as proud."

No Decision on Halibut Prices

PRINCE RUPERT, April 13 (CP).—No positive course of action has been decided yet by Prince Rupert fishermen in regard to the halibut price differential dispute which has threatened a tie-up of West Coast halibut boats.

W. H. Brett, president of the Deep-Sea Fishermen's Union, said today his union is standing by for possible action on information from George Anderson, union secretary, who is now in the South.

With the halibut season opening on April 15, the customs office reports that to date no halibut boat operators have requested clearance from this port.

In Vancouver W. T. Burgess, general secretary United Fishermen's Federal Union, said British Columbia halibut fishermen and vessel owners will keep their boats tied up while the dispute between the office of Price Administration and Seattle halibutters continues.

Eggleston Becomes Chief of Censors

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP).—Wilfrid Eggleston, chief censor of publications for the past four years, has been appointed director of censorship to succeed Col. O. M. Biggar, who is retiring, it was announced tonight by War Services Minister LaFleche.

Mr. Eggleston, who will take over the new post immediately, has also served as chief cable and telegraph censor.

The announcement said Col. Biggar was retiring at his own request. He accepted the post in the Spring of 1942 on the condition that he would serve only until the censorship branches were well co-ordinated and operating smoothly.

Tiny Furnace Can Heat House

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP). — A "vest pocket" furnace that can be hung from a rafter in the attic and will generate enough energy to heat a ten-room house now awaits its turn on the postwar assembly line.

The heater, of which there are several types, is another example how the necessities of war have stimulated engineering progress toward the comforts of future homes.

In war, it has been used to dry soldiers' laundry, to heat hospital tents, to dry parachutes, to de-ice airplane wings. As to future possibilities:

Imagine an arrangement in which a clock mechanism might turn on the heater in your car during breakfast, so that when you go to the garage you will find a warm car even before the engine is started. You may not even need a garage; just a roof over the car to keep the snow off. The heater will prevent freezing.

And when Winter comes, instead of shoveling snow off the sidewalk, just turn on the heater and watch it melt away. And there is the possibility of de-icing streets, saving thousands of dollars in snow removal.

The basic principles of design for the heater have been thoroughly established, Lynn A. Williams, Jr., vice-president of the Stewart-Warner Corporation, explains.

For illustration, take the "vest pocket" gasoline-burning edition that weighs 20 pounds and is 20 inches in diameter and 15 inches long—about the size of an office wastebasket.

The heater uses the spiral accelerating flow design, is hermetically sealed and has a small combustion chamber. Made of a stainless steel alloy, this heater, Mr. Williams says, is sufficient in most climates for a ten-room house.

Camera Club Meets

The monthly meeting of the British Columbia Civil Service Camera Club was held recently in the club's quarters on Burdett Avenue. After a short business session, club members listened to an instructive address by Duncan McPhail, well-known local photographer, on flash photography. Mr. McPhail illustrated his talk by various examples of flash photography and mentioned many amusing incidents during the course of photographing various notable people. At the close of the talk, he answered many questions asked by the members.

There were 17 prints submitted in two classes in the regular monthly print competition. In the class for large prints, first place went to J. Bartlett for his "Wild Bill." Ms Bartlett also took second honors with "Playmates," while third place was awarded to J. Hawkes' print, "All Washed Up." In the second group, comprising prints less than four by six inches, first, second and third were awarded to three submitted by J. Hawkes. Four new members were admitted to the club.

Victory First Urges Vaughan

MONTREAL, April 13. — "Once more Canada is asking us to buy victory bonds; to put victory first in our thinking and in our plans."

This quotation is the introductory paragraph of a letter prepared by R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president, C.N.R., and which is today being distributed to the more than 94,000 employees in Canada of the Canadian National Railways, Trans-Canada Air Lines and National Railways Munitions, Ltd. A copy of the letter will accompany every pay cheque and will reach every individual on the system no matter how remote his location from a supervisory office. Such as the thousands of men who work along the right of way to maintain tracks and structures.

In his letter, Mr. Vaughan refers to the warning issued by the Prime Minister in the Canadian House of Commons: "We are in times that are very grave indeed," Mr. Vaughan continues. "We cannot afford to ignore this warning, considering the source from which it comes. It is our duty to heed it and to support our Government to the full in meeting the crisis. We can render this help effectively and immediately by throwing the full weight of our financial support behind the Sixth Victory Loan campaign.

"There is no longer any need to explain why we should subscribe to our victory loans. The fact that in the last loan 86.2 per cent of all the men and women of the Canadian National system, Trans-Canada Air Lines and National Railways Munitions, Ltd., invested a grand total of $8,594,600, is enough to make it plain that the purposes of victory loans are well understood.

"But there is reason to hope and reason to urge that both of these totals be increased in this, the Sixth Victory Loan campaign. We can do it if we will only realize the seriousness of the times; if we will put victory first."

The chairman has authorized all regional officers to provide for payroll deductions for those employees who wish to purchase bonds through deferred payments. The payments in this instance extending until November next. In past campaigns a considerable proportion of bond sales made throughout the Canadian National system has been effected through the payroll deductions covering a period of six months, and it is anticipated that this method will be used to an even greater extent for the Sixth Victory Loan campaign.

Boy Scout News

Strawberry Vale and Church of Our Lord Packs—A joint hike by the two packs was held recently to Grange Heights, under the leadership of Jean Scott and Winnie Lees. There were 32 boys, including two visitors from Vancouver. A treasure hunt and den building in the woods was followed by a weiner roast and campfire, which was enjoyed by everyone.

Sidney—There was no regular meeting of the troop last week, all the leaders being at the training camp which closed on Monday. Sam Skinners' patrol won the patrol competition and will go on a boat trip today.

The Rover Crew met on Tuesday and advanced training was carried out. The crew wishes to thank Squadron Leader Frank Henderson, padre at Patricia Bay, for going to the patrol leaders' training camp last Sunday morning and conducting a communion service. An invitation is extended to any Rovers in the services who may be stationed in the district. They can get in touch by phoning Sidney 123.

SCOFFS AT SUGGESTION

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today branded as infamous any thought that Britain and the United States should join Hitler in the war on Russia. Asked at his news conference for comment on the Spanish Falangist propaganda campaign recommending Britain and the United States join Hitler in the war on Russia, Hull replied that any person who originated even the thought, much less the suggestion, must himself have been conscious of the infamy of what he was doing.

FAMILY BURNED

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 13 (AP). —Four small children and their mother were burned to death today, and more than a score of persons driven into sub-freezing weather when fire that started in Franklin McMaster's home swept through three frame houses. Explains Outcrop Of Service Clubs

Asked by Victoria Kinsmen to speak frankly, Rev. Dr. Michael Coleman told the club at its dinner meeting last night at Empress Hotel: "You can't go on kidding yourselves that by being good fellows you are taking part in the Christian order."

He spoke of "the strange outcrop of service clubs" that seemed to be a product of the western hemisphere in the last few decades, and suggested two causes for their growth: the failure of the Christian church to provide men with warmth, fellowship and an opportunity for service, and the desire of men to feel that they were doing good work.

However, all men tried to spare themselves as much as possible, with the result that in most clubs "only a tiny handful runs the show." Service clubs, he declared, had come to provide an easy means for men to feel they were "serving their Maker and their brethren."

Although the present trend was "primarily the fault of the church," he also blamed man's neglect of the doctrine of the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God. He contended that without belief in the fatherhood of God, brotherhood of man was a philosophy that lacked reason.

He asked whether the Kinsmen had seriously considered problems of family life, civics and economics; whether they had active study groups, and what their opinions were on rehabilitation, housing and a new monetary system. "How does your idea of God square with your beliefs on business enterprise?" he asked.

He asked: "How far are you prepared to have a Christian order in Canada?" and declared his belief that "something really Christian will emerge in Britain."

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bishop Wedded Sixty-Five Years

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bishop, 1122 Greenwood Street, will today celebrate their 65th wedding anniversary. Mr. Bishop, former postmaster, is in indifferent health, consequently the affair will be quietly observed, with no reception.

Born in Portsmouth, England, Mr. Bishop accompanied his parents to Victoria in 1870. Mrs. Bishop, born in Quebec, came West with her parents in 1874. They were married at the Methodist Church in New Westminster in 1879, and have a family of two sons and three daughters, 23 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. Two sons passed away last year. Mrs. Robert Evans is the only daughter not living in Victoria; she makes her home at Duncan. Others in this city are George and Clarence, Mrs. Etta Allan and Mrs. Ernest McLean.

Mr. Bishop has led a busy and active life. His early career was spent with the People's Navigation Co., later with Canadian Navigation Co., then with the C.P.R., followed by 14 years at the Postoffice as postmaster until 1927, when he became Dominion Government annuity agent for five years.

A. E. Whitehouse, D.D. A blue tailored suit with rust accessories was worn by the bride and she carried a white prayer-book with white streamers showered with flowers. Miss Lena Wood was her sister's bridesmaid, in a brown suit with beige accessories and their brother, Mr. Elmo Wood, was groomsman. A large reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, who was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. V. Moore. Mr. Fred Alexander gave the toast, and Mrs. V. Moore and Mrs. R. C. Whims presided at the supper table. Mr. and Mrs. Forgues have returned from a honeymoon on the Mainland and taken up residence at 1123 Princess Avenue. PERKINS—ENGELHARDT

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Perkins are spending their honeymoon in Victoria and expect to return to Oakland, Calif., next week where they will make their home for the immediate future. The bride, formerly Miss Josephine Engelhardt, R.N., a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital, who has been on the staff of Providence Hospital, Oakland, for the last two and a half years, is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Engelhardt, 924 McClure Street and the bridegroom, Mr. Henry Standish Perkins, is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Perkins, Andover, Mass. The marriage took place in the Chapel of the Chimes, Oakland, on April 8, Rev. Dr. Cross officiating. The organist was in attendance and a vocal soloist rendered "Because" and "Ave Maria." Calla lilies predominated in the lovely decorations. Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Arthur Engelhardt, the bride was lovely in a sweeping gown of white satin with a long full train and long pointed sleeves. Her shoulder veil fell from a tiara of white bouvardia, and she carried a bouquet of white bouvardia centred with a mauve orchid. Mrs. J. Smith, Oakland, attended the bride, wearing a frock of aqua blue net with matching veil caught with a cluster of yellow and blue flowers across her brow. She carried a Victorian [illegible] centred with a rose. Mr. Fred Engelhardt, Burlingame, cousin of the bride, was groomsman. The wedding reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Engelhardt, the bridal couple leaving afterwards for Victoria. For traveling, the bride chose a dove grey suit with a red straw hat, white and red accessories and a corsage bouquet of three gardenias.

Film Masterpiece Opens Here Today

Hit-maker, star-maker Darryl F. Zanuck has done it again. The unprecedented advance acclaim being accorded his production of "The Purple Heart," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre, heralds the fact that the producer who has given the movie-going public its memorable screen thrills, has once again achieved a screen masterpiece.

The 20th Century-Fox film is the stirring drama of Yanks bombing Tokio, falling into the brutal hands of the Japs, and being put on trial not as prisoners of war, but for murder. It is the story of eight dauntless U.S. flyers who tie the whole Jap empire into knots.

As produced by Mr. Zanuck, and directed by Lewis Milestone, "The Purple Heart" is a "fighting mad" picture, blazing with the fury of Yank courage and pride, and destined to stand as one of the most moving and overwhelmingly powerful films the screen has ever known.

ATLAS THEATRE Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland and Tommy Dorsey are M-G-M's three headliners in the snappy musical comedy, "Girl Crazy," now at the Atlas Theatre. Regarded as one of the season's outstanding pictures, the headline stars are supported by such personalities as "Rags" Ragland, June Allyson, Guy Kibbee, Frances Rafferty, Nancy Walker, Howard Freeman, Henry O'Neill, Gil Stratton and Robert E. Strickland.

CADET THEATRE Laughter is the keynote of "A Lady Takes a Chance," the screen's new comedy romance with Jean Arthur and John Wayne, teamed for the first time, in the stellar roles. With most of its action laid in eastern Oregon, the picture now at the Cadet Theatre, tells hilariously of the rocky love affair of a New York working girl on vacation and a rodeo rider on the prowl.

CAPITOL THEATRE Peter Lorre, who has played the part of the villain in many pictures, has a prominent role in Warner Bros.' latest film, "Passage to Marseille" in which he plays the part of a small-time Parisian crook who sacrifices his life for his country. Humphrey Bogart has the starring role in the picture now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES Buxom, jolly Louise Beavers, who plays the Negro maid, Mammy Jenny, in the production "Jack London," currently at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, owes her career to a real life job as a maid. Sixteen years ago the movie-struck Louise took a job as the personal maid to Leatrice Joy. Miss Beavers' impromptu songs and dances while doing the household chores induced Miss Joy to help Louise find the career she wanted.

RIO THEATRE Ward Bond, whose acting stock soared with his characterization of John L. Sullivan in "Gentleman Jim Corbett," has been awarded a plum assignment by Universal. Bond plays the top "heavy" role in "Sin Town," an oil boom story in which he is starred with Constance Bennett, Brod Crawford, Patric Knowles, Anne Gwynne, Leo Carrillo and Andy Devine. The picture is now playing at the Rio Theatre.

YORK THEATRE Bing Crosby's music hath charms for Dorothy Lamour in Paramount's Technicolor musical of minstrel days, "Dixie" now at the York Theatre. Crosby enacts the role of Dan Emmett, composer of the title song and originator of the minstrel show. Six new tunes and six old favorites make "Dixie" the knockout it is.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP).—Gen. Janos Kertesz, former member of the Hungarian general staff, was sentenced to death in absentia in Budapest yesterday for "desertion and high treason," the Stockholm newspaper Nya Dagligt Allehanda said. The article said Kertesz fled, taking "several plans of fortifications with him," and is believed now to be at headquarters of the Yugoslav partisans.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP).—Stocks generally held to the downward trail today, although there were a number of exceptions and a little late support reduced or canceled some initial losses running to a point or so.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off .2 of a point at 51.8. Of 855 individual issues, the same number as yesterday, 492 were down, 152 up and 211 unchanged. Transfers totaled 655,590 shares compared with 718,410, Wednesday.

Among gainers, Masonite was up 3 points at 46, a 1944 peak.

Celanese, on the other hand, touched a low for the year in the wake of announcement of a preferred and common stock offering by the company.

Rails, heavy most of the day, stiffened at the last, apparently buoyed by the big short interest in this group. The majority ended with only small minus signs and Southern Pacific was up 1-4.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, April 13 (CP).—Export business again held the spotlight today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange during a moderately active session.

Traders reported the sale of 500,000 bushels of Nos. 2 and 3 Northern wheat to the United States Commodity Credit Corporation and 200,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern to the United Kingdom.

Approximately 100,000 bushels of rye also changed hands for shipment to the United States.

In the cereal markets wheat finished 1 1-4 to 1 3-8 lower, May closed at $1.32 3-8, July $1.31 1-8 to $1.31 1-4 and October $1.28 5-8 to $1.28 3-4.

Observers attributed the day's slump to weakness at Chicago and heavy United States stocks markets.

Lower Sale Prices Aim of Industry

MONTREAL, April 13 (CP).—George W. Huggett, president and managing director, told shareholders of Canadian Industries Limited at their annual meeting today that "industry's first and greatest responsibility is to obtain the highest degree of efficiency in production, distribution and administration, in order to achieve lower selling prices, thereby broadening markets and expanding output and employment."

An important adjunct of such a policy, he said, "is the encouragement of scientific research and inventiveness, and the provision of the necessary production facilities for the development of new discoveries."

Montreal Stocks

MOONTREAL, April, 13 (CP).—Minuses had the best of it in changes today up to the final hour on the stock exchange and curb market. Beauharnois, up 2, and Shawinigan were among the winners, but Canada Northern Power, Gatineau, Brazilian, B.C. Power "A" and Power Corporation were in arrears.

Cockshutt Plow and Massey preferred edged up, and Marconi and General Steelwares slipped. Howard Smith preferred was firmer, and Price backed up.

Smelters, Noranda and Nickel edged back in metals.

Increases of £1,281,000 in private deposits and £9,435,000 in Government securities were partly offset by decreases of £2,143,000 in public deposits and £9,907,000 in other securities.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liabilities this week was 11.6 per cent, compared with 28.3 per cent the same week a year ago.

Ladysmith Tax Rate Unchanged

LADYSMITH, April 13.—The mill rate for Ladysmith will remain the same as last year's. This will be 45 mills, with 25 for schools and 20 for general purposes.

Last evening's regular city council meeting granted permission for a funeral home to be established in this city. Westwood-Hirst of Nanaimo were the applicants. It will be the first funeral home here.

Radio interference is extremely bad in some sections of the city, and complaints have caused the council to request the Department of Trade and Commerce at Victoria to have a trouble-shooting car visit the area and locate the nuisance noises.

Sale of city-owned lots is proceeding briskly, and except for those in the hands of private owners, sales are mainly confined to one or two blocks fringing the west limits of the city. Ladysmith Water Company has been notified prospective building plans will require an extension of the existing water secondary mains to make connections available to lots now being marketed.

It is extremely unwise to base the defence on the hope that partner has one certain card, when victory can also be attained if he has a different holding and the only problem is to discover "which is which." Consider this case.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South

2 ♥	3 ♦	Pass	3 NT
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

South cannot be blamed for feeling that there was an excellent chance for three no trump after North had made a three diamond bid. It was North who should have run out of the three no trump contract.

West cashed his three top hearts and then, with the fervent hope that East could stop the diamond suit, exited with his fourth heart so as to avoid leading from honors in the black suits. Declarer promptly ratified off six diamonds and two spades, fulfilling the contract.

West should have been a bit more versatile. It was possible, but by no means certain that East had a diamond stopper—he might have other values for his one no trump response (which, incidentally, should have been a meek pass). The way for West to find out was to lay down the club ace! If East gave a "come on" with a high card, as he certainly would have, West could continue with that suit; if East discouraged a club continuation he would be announcing tacitly a diamond stopper, and West would be assured of the setting trick. Actually, of course, the defenders would have run five club tricks and collected an 1,100 point penalty.

OVERTIME VICTORY GIVES CANADIENS HOCKEY TITLE

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

WHAT A CLOSE CALL IT WAS

While listening to the hockey game last night during supper time my face was getting redder and redder all the time, for the Black Hawks from Chicago were out in front when the announcer broke in and said the score was 4-1 going into the third period. I had visions of everything; yours truly pushing a peanut from the City Hall to Terry's with his nose; of the Hawks taking four straight just like the Toronto Leafs did a couple of seasons ago against the Detroit Red Wings, and the readers of this column bearing down with the pen and ink, typewriter or what have you and telling the Great Predictor just how wrong and wet he really is at times. . . . However, those Flying Frenchmen, bless their souls, never let me down for a second. They came back fighting mad and before the gong went for the end of the third period it was all tied up, thanks to a rookie star by the name of Maurice Richard, who whipped in two goals in one minute and 15 seconds. . . . The color left the cheeks and J.D. relaxed when the score was deadlocked and was confident that Montreal wouldn't disappoint this corner when it came to knocking the public over for four straight, the only sports writer in this Dominion who went out on the limb and picked the Canadiens to take it like picking up the morning wash on a Monday. . . . It has been 13 years since the Canadiens have won the world's championship and yesterday was April 13, so those figures must be lucky in the locker room of the team under the guidance of Manager Tommy Gorman and Coach Dick Irwin.

ODDS AND ENDS

That "sneaking hunch" which this scribbler had about the Navy entering in the City Baseball League this coming season became a reality yesterday when it was announced from the press headquarters at Esquimalt Barracks that the sailors would be in the thick of the flag chase once again. Lieut. Tony Hamilton will be the manager but the rest of the personnel will be announced when the time comes. Glad to see you pack in Navy after all the gossip which has been floating through the grapevine and around the baseball front during the last few weeks . . . That means that the senior loop will be comprised of the Navy, Army, Air Force, V.M.D. and the Eagles this year. The lodgemen are doing their utmost to field a club which will make a much better showing than in 1943 when they won about two games, one a 10-8 decision from the championship shipbuilding nine . . . Louis Americus (Crip) Poili, New York Giants—who called him a rookie? He's 40 years old and in 1930 when he had a trial with the Yankees, Bob Shawkey, then boss of the American League club, told him he would never be a big leaguer. Nevertheless, Crip showed enough last season with Jersey City (leading the league in earned run averages with 1.85) and in Spring training to earn promotion to the big time. A little fellow, he pitches more with his head these days than with his arm . . . Joe North dropped into the sports room the other day to tell me about the unassisted triple play he made during a ball game more than 40 years ago between the City Firemen and the Maple Leafs. Playing infield for the fire-eaters, Joe speared a liner, doubled the man leaving second base and then touched the player coming into the middle cushion for the triple killing all by himself.

FROM HERE AND THERE

Defenceman Walter "Babe" Pratt and Goalie Bibeault, of the Toronto Maple Leafs, received good-sized bonuses when the team closed out its campaigning for the season against the Black Hawks in the cup eliminations. They certainly earned them at that . . . A lot of dyed-in-the-wool race fans think that Pukka Gin won't win the Kentucky Derby on May 6 at Churchill Downs because only four Winter book favorites have copped the main share of the purse in the last 25 years. Incidentally it should be Pukka Gen and not Gin for a clerk made a mistake in registering the name . . . No horse ever breaking from post position No. 9 has ever won the classic. Lucky post positions during the 69 years the event has been run are one, four and five . . . Sports Editor Andy Lytle, of The Toronto Star, says he never saw a better left-winger in hockey than Gordie Roberts, the old "curve shot" specialist with the Montreal Wanderers. Gordie was big, tough, and he and Harry Hyland were the "high shots" of hockey at that time. They use to let their shot fly head high at the goalies early in the game and both drove them like "Babe" Dye, Chuck Conacher and Didier Pitre. Late in the game they would lower their sights and goals would come aplenty. Roberts, by the way, finished his career with the Vancouver club in the old Coast-League, and many a night delighted the crowds at the Willows Arena which burned to the ground in November, 1929 . . . The Victory Herald, a paper put out by the Sixth Victory Loan Headquarters at Ottawa, has a sports story about Canada's brave athletes during this war. It has a paragraph or two about Sergt. Hank Rowe, but where the publishers got their information from is beyond me. They have Hank playing for the Vancouver Dominoes when that cage team won the men's senior Canadian basketball championship. So attention, [illegible] Herald, the Dominoes were organized right in Victoria and the team won two national titles before disbanding when the war came along.

BEATS WORLD'S CHAMPION

LONDON, April 12 (CP).—Pte. Garrett Nash, American soldier from St. Louis, electrified a capacity audience at the Queensbury Club tonight by defeating Richard Bergmann, world table tennis champion. The scores were 22-17, 13-21, 21-10, 12-21, 21-8.

Bergmann, a refugee from Vienna, won the world title at Baden in 1937 and at Cairo in 1939.

Toe Blake Scores Winning Goal in Montreal Verdict

Flying Frenchmen Stage Fine Comeback To Beat Out Chicago in Cup Series, 5-4

By HAROLD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, April 13 (CP).—Montreal Canadiens won their first Stanley Cup since 1931 tonight, coming behind a three-goal deficit to edge out Chicago Black Hawks, 5-4, in overtime on Toe Blake's series-winning goal. The goal gave Canadiens the final series in four straight games.

It was a fitting climax to a wonderful game for the veteran captain of Canadiens, for he had set up the plays on all four goals that Canucks bagged in the regulation 60-minutes of play. Elmer Lach bagged two of them and Maurice Richard the other two.

That overtime goal also gave Blake a new point record for play-off hockey, running his count to 18 to surpass the new mark set last Sunday by Richard. Richard ended with 17 points.

Canadiens had to fight all the way against the battling Hawks. Three goals down entering the third, they finally started to click in the final ten minutes and rapped home three counters to send the contest into overtime.

George Allen opened the scoring for Hawks after five minutes of play. Canadiens had just survived a slashing penalty to Mike McMahon and the teams were at full strength when Cully Dahlstrom fed Allen a pass from a scramble and Allen made no mistake on a short hard drive.

Elmer Lach tied it up three minutes later, with a golfed shot from 15 feet out that didn't leave the ice as it passed Mike Karakas. Lach was in front of the net when Toe Blake's hard pass came out to him from the side. He knocked it down and golfed it into the net all in one motion.

The three Chicago goals of the middle period came in less than three minutes, all of them on power plays while Canadiens were short-handed through successive penalties to Blake and Watson.

Rookie Johnny Harms bagged the first while Blake was off, with Dahlstrom and Allen in on the play. Allen bagged the second, from Bentley and Smith, and Smith set up Bentley for the third. Watson was off on both occasions.

There were chants of "fake" from the crowd as things slowed to a walk at times in the remainder of the period.

But in the third Canadiens stormed in time and again, until it was obvious the pressure must tell.

Elmer Lach put Canucks back in the game mid-way through the period, poking in a short one after taking Blake's pass from close-in. Then Richard let go with a couple that tied things up, with Blake again making the plays. The first one was the picture goal of the night, with Richard letting fly with a back-hand after he was spun completely around ten feet from the net.

The second came a minute later, on Blake's perfect pass-out from behind the net, to send the game in overtime and set the stage for Blake's winner.

FIRST PERIOD

Canadiens came close a couple of times in the first three minutes as they turned on a series of power plays. Hawks came through, however, with George Allen driving a short one past Durnan after a scramble. Canadiens got that one back four minutes later, with Elmer Lach golfing one home after taking Toe Blake's fast pass from the side.

Ray Getliffe was benched for slashing at the 13-minute mark, and Canadiens were hard pressed for two minutes but got through without damage.

SECOND PERIOD

Play was even for the first couple of minutes and then Canadiens turned on full power. They had the Hawks reeling until the six-minute mark, but couldn't beat Karakas.

Then Blake went off for cross-checking and it was Hawks' turn to press. Johnny Harms shot Chicago into the lead on a lovely passing play with Dahlstrom and Allen. Phil Watson was off when the Hawks did it again with Allen rapping home a pass from Doug Bentley and Clint Smith. Seconds later Bentley smacked home another to make it 4-1.

Things slowed to a walk at times in the final minutes of the period and the crowd roared its disapproval.

THIRD PERIOD

Hawks laid back playing smart defensive hockey that had Canadiens stymied.

Canadiens kept coming closer, and closer, "until they finally got back into the game midway through the period, with Lach doing the honors again and Blake assisting. Canadiens were looking like a hockey team again, driving on Karakas repeatedly when the goal came.

Lamoureux pulled Johnson down from behind just over the blue line. A major penalty shot was called against Lamoureux but Durnan saved beautifully on Johnson's attempt.

With five minutes to go, Maurice Richard came in by himself down the side after taking Blake's pass, got turned completely around ten feet out, but let fly a backhander after completing his spin that connected.

Richard did it again a minute later, and again it was Blake who set things up with a pass out from behind the net. The crowd went crazy and the game was held up while the ice was cleared of a variety of missiles.

There seemed to be a million Canadiens all around the Hawk net in the final minute, but they couldn't score and the game went into overtime.

OVERTIME PERIOD

It was announced the overtime play would be sudden death, with the first team scoring winning the game. Overtime periods of 20 minutes each would be played until somebody scored.

Canadiens kept the Hawks bottled up behind their own blue line for several minutes. Both teams were taking chances and playing every man up when they got the opportunity.

Karakas was sensational as Canadiens stormed all around him. Then Durnan stopped spectacularly when Bentley drove in on him with nobody near on a breakaway with Smith.

Toe Blake slapped home the goal that won the Stanley Cup on Bouchard's pass nine minutes after the overtime started.

It is expected, however, that there will be many players new to the Victoria league, with a few of last year's Navy team members on hand.

Leswick, Ursaki To Play Tonight For Coast Squad

PORT ARTHUR, April 13 (CP).—With Forwards Pete Leswick and Johnny Ursaki pronounced as definite starters, New Westminster Lodestars expressed confidence tonight they would defeat Port Arthur Shipbuilders and advance into the Dominion senior hockey final with Quebec Aces.

Leading a best-of-seven Western Canada final 3-2, with one game tied, Lodestars battle Shipbuilders in the seventh game tomorrow night. They won the sixth game Wednesday 6-2.

Playing Coach Frank Dotten said: "We've won three out of the last four games, so I don't see any reason why we can't win this one."

Dotten said Leswick would have a bruised rib taped for the game and a head injury would not hinder Ursaki from taking his place as relief forward. Both were injured in Wednesday's clash.

Realizing Shipbuilders are on the spot, Coach Hugh O'Leary is confident they still have a fighting chance.

"We're not through yet," he said. "Lodestars have a good club, but I think we can show them something yet ourselves."

He said he planned no changes in the line-up.

Earl of Lonsdale Dies in England

LONDON, April 13 (CP).—Britain today mourned the greatest sporting Englishman of them all, the fifth Earl of Lonsdale, a link with peacetime pageantry spanning a half-century and often called the most democratic nobleman ever bred.

The 87-year-old earl, who once remarked "life has been lovely fun," died today at Oakham, Rutland. He could trace his family history for 800 years, but he remained the idol of the costermongers as well as the intimate of the royal family.

His democracy earned him the sobriquets of "The Jolly Earl," "The Coster's Earl" and, because he painted all his automobiles yellow, "The Yellow Earl."

A fine all-round athlete in his earlier days, when he defeated the mighty John L. Sullivan in a six-round boxing bout, he became one of Britain's greatest authorities on bloodstock and the St. Leger was among the many famous races won by his horses.

He toured the Rocky Mountains soon after his marriage in 1878 to Lady Grace Cecille Gordon, daughter of the tenth Marquis of Huntly. And was fond of proclaiming himself discoverer of the Klondike.

He used to tell how in December, 1888, he set out from Winnipeg, up the Athabasca River and down the Mackenzie to its estuary, how he sailed in a whaler among the Arctic Islands, how he crossed the Yukon and reached the Coast by dog sled and on snowshoes, escaping only [illegible] to death.

He was one of the last great squires of England, master of an income of £120,000 (about $540,000) a year in his heyday and owner of one of Britain's most magnificent estates.

His marriage remained childless and the title passes to his brother, Capt. Lancelot Edward Lowther, born in 1867.

Sherman Is President

Chosen Cricket Head for Season

Victor Sherman was chosen president of the Victoria and District Cricket Association at the annual meeting held recently. Complete slate of officers for the coming year follows: Sir Richard Lake, honorary president; Hon. W. C. Woodward, Lieutenant-Governor, honorary patron; Victor Sherman, president; George H. Gardiner, vice-president; Arthur Kerslake, treasurer; Frank Dyment, secretary.

Four elevens have signified their intentions of competing for the league championship this season. They are Royal Canadian Navy, Five C's, Albions and Spencers. Word is awaited from five other possible starters, three of which look as if they may make the grade. Notably among the latter is the Royal Navy, who are very keen and would be worthy successors to the Royal Air Force. According to official word the R.A.F. will not be in the league.

Vancouver is willing to play inter-city matches again this season and this matter will be dealt with at the next meeting of the local body.

The association received word from George Berridge, who was at Work Point Barracks for a short time two years ago, and he states that the Dominion will have three teams entered in the London area and several Victorians will be playing.

All persons desirous of playing cricket during the season are asked to register with the secretary, P.O. Box 442, and thereby be assured of getting a game every Saturday or Wednesday afternoon. This invitation is extended to all players, civilians or servicemen.

The association is expecting a shipment of boys' equipment any day now and then the call will go out to all youngsters who would like to learn the game. These boys will be registered and will receive their tutoring from Bobby Poyntz.

Yanks Have Pitching

Champions Boast Of Mound Staff

PLAINFIELD, N.J., April 13 (AP)—Before shedding a crocodile tear for the fate of the poor New York Yankees, consider that Spud Chandler and Ernie Bonham are rejoining the ball club, 12 farm system-tested rookies are on the premises, and Joe McCarthy is still manager.

No club can lose men like Charley Keller, Frank Crosetti, Bill Dickey, Joe Gordon, Bill Johnson and Marius Russo and pretend to be the same. But a fine pitching staff, good infield and fair outfield figure to make the Yanks American League pennant contenders as usual.

Pitching is McCarthy's strong suit. In addition to Chandler and Bonham, whose impending inductions have been delayed, are Hank Borowy, Atley Donald and Bill Zuber, who figure to be starters along with Walt Dubiel—16-game winner at Newark—and possibly Joe Page, southpaw, who won 14 for the same club.

Lefty Johnny Johnson, of Kansas City, has looked good in brief appearances, as has Floyd (Bill) Bevens, who may help Jim Turner take up the fireman's job left open by the retirement of Fordham Johnny Murphy.

McCarthy is high on George Stirnweiss, who is taking Joe Gordon's place at second after an unimpressive rookie season in 1943. Nick Etten is back at first and Rookie Don Savage from Newark has been installed as third baseman. Shortstop goes to Oscar Grimes, bench-warmer last year, with Mike Milosevich, of Kansas City, ready to fill in any place in the infield when needed.

Jones Case to Jurors Today

Evidence was completed yesterday afternoon at the Spring Assizes in the trial of Leading Seaman Norman T. E. Jones, charged with attempted carnal knowledge and indecent assault. Argument of counsel, Joseph McKenna for the prosecution and P. J. Sinnott for the defence, will be heard this morning before Mr. Justice Farris places the case in the hands of the jury for decision.

Seven witnesses were heard. The evidence of an eighth witness, Dr. G. A. McCurdy, pathologist, at the preliminary hearing, was read into the records owing to his absence through illness.

Evidence of the young woman and of Dr. McCurdy concluded the prosecution, and the defence called six witnesses, including Dr. J. H. Moore, pathologist; Able Seamen William B. How, D. B. Sutherland and William Koruna; also the accused and Lieutenant G. L. Crawford, first lieutenant of Jones' ship.

The young woman stated in cross-examination that Jones "was always a perfect gentleman toward me"; that she had been out a number of times with him and "he's always been a swell fellow." She stated she had a number of drinks of rum at a party at Seaman How's suite, but did not remember anything that happened from about 9:30, at the party, until she came to in hospital about 6 o'clock the following morning.

Jones, when he testified, spoke of a series of drinks given him aboard ship, at the Legion and at the party, in celebration of two weeks' leave on which he was then starting. He testified that as he and the girl left How's suite, the girl fell down the stairs and then went around the corner of the house. He remembered nothing more till he awakened in the city jail in the morning.

Evidence as to drinking was given by Seamen How, Sutherland and Koruna, and pathological evidence was given by Dr. Moore. The doctor also stated shock could be induced by over indulgence in alcohol.

Lieutenant Crawford, called as a character witness, stated Jones "always carried out his duties very well" and had "never been up as a defaulter." He was "a rating you could put your trust in," and as such had charge of the ship's canteen. "He's an intelligent lad and definitely a superior rating," the officer continued, and his conduct had been 100 per cent. He had been recommended for a commission by his former commanding officer.

PROGRAMME POSTPONED

"The Little Red Schoolhouse" programme over Station CJVI had to be postponed last night on account of an overtime hockey broadcast. Solarium Junior League members to have appeared on the programme will be heard at 7:30 o'clock next Thursday night.

LONDON (CP).—The Department of Indians Overseas of the India Office has been changed to the Department of Commonwealth Relations and will conduct relations between India and the Dominions.

Gift Home Drawing

The Kinsmen-Solarium Gift Home draw will be held Saturday, and the winning ticket will be drawn by Reeve W. L. Woodhouse, Oak Bay, at the supper dance in the Empress Hotel that evening.

The draw will take place at approximately 10:45 o'clock. Street sales close at 1 o'clock Saturday.

Lions Club Hears Facts on Insects

Insects, of which there are 660,000 species, or two-thirds of the total species of animal life in the world, should command man's respect, if not his fear, Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, told the Lions Club yesterday at a luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room.

Using a huge model of an insect torso, he fitted wings and legs to it with dexterity, to illustrate the structural differences between better known insects. As the name indicates, Dr. Carl said, an insect's body is in sections, or uniformly indented, with antennae attached to the small head; legs and wings to the thorax, and the larger trunk portion for digestion.

The speaker remarked that an insect has six legs, which rules out spiders, centipedes and slugs. Butterflies and moths, he said, had a sucking tube attached to the head which could be rolled up when not in use.

Explaining the difference between bees and wasps, Dr. Carl stated the bee used its stinger for self-protection, while the wasp paralyzed its prey with it. The victim could then be kept in storage with an egg, which later developed into a grub and fed on the live prey, still paralyzed so that it could not escape.

DESCRIBES HOW CRICKETS MAKE PECULIAR NOISE

He told how the cricket used its small wings to rub together to make the peculiar noise for which it was known. Beetles and crickets could fly when they wanted to by the use of the two hind wings which fold away neatly under the front wings. Earwigs also could fly, because they also had diminutive wings which folded up and were concealed.

Insects helped man by pollinating fruit and vegetables, and also caused great harm and added expense by inroads on crops, lumber and foods.

"We depend upon insects, and at the same time some are very harmful; indeed, which sounds paradoxical," Dr. Carl said, "a second paradox is that insects are not intelligent, and therefore less harmful, but that very lack of intelligence makes them a danger to the human race."

If intelligent the insects would rule the world. As it was, they multiplied no matter how many thousands were killed, because they did not understand that destruction awaited them, Dr. Carl related.

Introduced by Arthur Burr, the speaker was thanked by George Thackeray.

City Police Court

Charged with dangerous driving following an accident at Cook Street and Hillside Avenue on March 24, Pte. A. P. Jacques was fined $25 in city police court yesterday. Defendant changed an earlier plea of not guilty to one of guilty.

Constable S. McKenzie told the court he attended the scene of the accident involving Jacques' motorcycle and a car and found skid marks measuring 99 feet six inches.

Miss E. H. M. Thorneycroft, defence counsel, said there was comparatively little damage to the motorcycle or the car, and suggested the accused had not been traveling at an excessive speed.

Character evidence for the soldier was given by his commanding officer. He stated that Jacques enlisted at the age of 17 and had been in the army for three years, two of which he had spent as a dispatch rider. In that time he had no accidents. He was an efficient soldier, and of his monthly pay of $45 had assigned $17 to the Victory Loan.

Dangerous driving charge against Marjorie Leiper, a taxi driver, was remanded until today.

Stanley A. Crittenden, charged under the W.T.P.B., was remanded for one week at the request of P. J. Sinnott, who is busy at the Assize Court.

Four motorists paid parking fines of $10.

Case Adjourned

COURTENAY, April 13 (CP).—The case against Alfred E. Simpson, of Oyster Bay, B.C., charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Francis A. Cameron, of Willow Point, B.C., near Nelson, today has been adjourned until April 20.

Charges were laid against Simpson, president of the Balco Development Company, following the death of Cameron, who was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile driven by the defendant on the Island Highway south of Campbell River last October 19.

Report Dogs Stolen

The S.P.C.A. at a recent meeting learned of the disappearance of six purebred Scottish terriers within three weeks. One of the owners is offering a substantial reward to anyone who will return the dog or furnish information, as the animal is old and will be pining for its home. Dog owners are urged to keep their animals under close observation and to report any loss at once to the S.P.C.A. at Empire 0514.

The society also urges all housewives to refrain from putting their kitchen scraps and bones on the street or in their yards where dogs can eat this waste. Owners feed their dogs carefully, only to have the animals made sick by eating garbage. It is much kinder to both animals and owners if garbage is burned.

Rotary Programme Features Talks

Spokes Club members supplied the entertainment at the Rotary Club luncheon held yesterday at the Empress Hotel, with the president, James Little, in the chair. Members stood in silent tribute to the memory of late Rotarian James Fletcher. G. Conway Parrott, traffic manager, Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Ltd., was welcomed as a new member.

Speakers from the Spokes Club gave extemporaneous five-minute addresses, including Len Hobbs, who told of Saanich, "Land of Plenty," from the time of its purchase from the Indians in 1852 by Sir James Douglas. Councillor for the municipality of Saanich, Rotarian Hobbs supplied figures and facts. James Nimmo was humorous with Irish wit in speaking of "A Little Bit of Blarney," while Jack Connelly gave advice to fellow members in his talk, "Victoria, the Place I Live In," to "sell" Victoria to tourists and visiting Rotarians by making their sojourn here as pleasant as possible. Capt. Proudfoot rounded out the programme with remarks on "After the War, What?" The speaker believed "We in Canada will play a very large part." He added "Internationally we are going to have closer co-operation with the United States," and a "vote at the peace table will necessitate money and worry." The programme was under chairmanship of George Mathison.

Visiting Rotarians were: Reg G. Smith, Calgary; Frank Kershaw, Calgary; E. A. Toshach, Drumheller; Fred Sine, Calgary; G. O. Rinman, Calgary; Dr. George F. Stephens, Montreal; H. WASHINGTON April 13 (AP)—Legislation to break up what he termed the "black market" in passenger reservations on railways and bus lines was introduced today by Chairman Clarence Lea (Dem.-Cal.) of the House of Representatives interstate commerce committee. Under the bill, any employee or agent of a carrier accepting a bribe or gratuity for transportation tickets would be subject to a fine of $1000.

Jones Case to Jurors Today

Evidence was completed yesterday afternoon at the Spring Assizes in the trial of Leading Seaman Norman T. E. Jones, charged with attempted carnal knowledge and indecent assault. Argument of counsel, Joseph McKenna for the prosecution and P. J. Sinnott for the defence, will be heard this morning before Mr. Justice Farris places the case in the hands of the jury for decision.

Seven witnesses were heard. The evidence of an eighth witness, Dr. G. A. McCurdy, pathologist, at the preliminary hearing, was read into the records owing to his absence through illness.

Evidence of the young woman and of Dr. McCurdy concluded the prosecution, and the defence called six witnesses, including Dr. J. H. Moore, pathologist; Able Seamen William B. How, D. B. Sutherland and William Koruna; also the accused and Lieutenant G. L. Crawford, first lieutenant of Jones' ship.

The young woman stated in cross-examination that Jones "was always a perfect gentleman toward me"; that she had been out a number of times with him and "he's always been a swell fellow." She stated she had a number of drinks of rum at a party at Seaman How's suite, but did not remember anything that happened from about 9:30, at the party, until she came to in hospital about 6 o'clock the following morning.

Jones, when he testified, spoke of a series of drinks given him aboard ship, at the Legion and at the party, in celebration of two weeks' leave on which he was then starting. He testified that as he and the girl left How's suite, the girl fell down the stairs and then went around the corner of the house. He remembered nothing more till he awakened in the city jail in the morning.

Evidence as to drinking was given by Seamen How, Sutherland and Koruna, and pathological evidence was given by Dr. Moore. The doctor also stated shock could be induced by over indulgence in alcohol.

Lieutenant Crawford, called as a character witness, stated Jones "always carried out his duties very well" and had "never been up as a defaulter." He was "a rating you could put your trust in," and as such had charge of the ship's canteen. "He's an intelligent lad and definitely a superior rating," the officer continued, and his conduct had been 100 per cent. He had been recommended for a commission by his former commanding officer.

PROGRAMME POSTPONED

"The Little Red Schoolhouse" programme over Station CJVI had to be postponed last night on account of an overtime hockey broadcast. Solarium Junior League members to have appeared on the programme will be heard at 7:30 o'clock next Thursday night.

LONDON (CP).—The Department of Indians Overseas of the India Office has been changed to the Department of Commonwealth Relations and will conduct relations between India and the Dominions.

Gift Home Drawing

The Kinsmen-Solarium Gift Home draw will be held Saturday, and the winning ticket will be drawn by Reeve W. L. Woodhouse, Oak Bay, at the supper dance in the Empress Hotel that evening.

The draw will take place at approximately 10:45 o'clock. Street sales close at 1 o'clock Saturday.

Lions Club Hears Facts on Insects

Insects, of which there are 660,000 species, or two-thirds of the total species of animal life in the world, should command man's respect, if not his fear, Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, told the Lions Club yesterday at a luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room.

Using a huge model of an insect torso, he fitted wings and legs to it with dexterity, to illustrate the structural differences between better known insects. As the name indicates, Dr. Carl said, an insect's body is in sections, or uniformly indented, with antennae attached to the small head; legs and wings to the thorax, and the larger trunk portion for digestion.

The speaker remarked that an insect has six legs, which rules out spiders, centipedes and slugs. Butterflies and moths, he said, had a sucking tube attached to the head which could be rolled up when not in use.

Explaining the difference between bees and wasps, Dr. Carl stated the bee used its stinger for self-protection, while the wasp paralyzed its prey with it. The victim could then be kept in storage with an egg, which later developed into a grub and fed on the live prey, still paralyzed so that it could not escape.

DESCRIBES HOW CRICKETS MAKE PECULIAR NOISE

He told how the cricket used its small wings to rub together to make the peculiar noise for which it was known. Beetles and crickets could fly when they wanted to by the use of the two hind wings which fold away neatly under the front wings. Earwigs also could fly, because they also had diminutive wings which folded up and were concealed.

Insects helped man by pollinating fruit and vegetables, and also caused great harm and added expense by inroads on crops, lumber and foods.

"We depend upon insects, and at the same time some are very harmful, indeed, which sounds paradoxical," Dr. Carl said, "a second paradox is that insects are not intelligent, and therefore less harmful, but that very lack of intelligence makes them a danger to the human race."

If intelligent the insects would rule the world. As it was, they multiplied no matter how many thousands were killed, because they did not understand that destruction awaited them, Dr. Carl related.

Introduced by Arthur Burr, the speaker was thanked by George Thackery.

City Police Court

Charged with dangerous driving following an accident at Cook Street and Hillside Avenue on March 24, Pte. A. P. Jacques was fined $25 in city police court yesterday. Defendant changed an earlier plea of not guilty to one of guilty.

Constable S. McKenzie told the court he attended the scene of the accident involving Jacques' motorcycle and a car and found skid marks measuring 99 feet six inches.

Miss E. H. M. Thorneycroft, defence counsel, said there was comparatively little damage to the motorcycle or the car, and suggested the accused had not been traveling at an excessive speed.

Character evidence for the soldier was given by his commanding officer. He stated that Jacques enlisted at the age of 17 and had been in the army for three years, two of which he had spent as a dispatch rider. In that time he had no accidents. He was an efficient soldier, and of his monthly pay of $45 had assigned $17 to the Victory Loan.

Dangerous driving charge against Marjorie Leiper, a taxi driver, was remanded until today.

Stanley A. Crittenden, charged under the W.T.P.B., was remanded for one week at the request of P. J. Sinnott, who is busy at the Assize Court.

Four motorists paid parking fines of $10.

Case Adjourned

COURTENAY, April 13 (CP).—The case against Alfred E. Simpson, of Oyster Bay, B.C., charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Francis A. Cameron, of Willow Point, B.C., near Nelson, today has been adjourned until April 20.

Charges were laid against Simpson, president of the Bateo Development Company, following the death of Cameron, who was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile driven by the defendant on the Island Highway south of Campbell River last October 19.

Report Dogs Stolen

The S.P.C.A. at a recent meeting learned of the disappearance of six purebred Scottish terriers within three weeks. One of the owners is offering a substantial reward to anyone who will return the dog or furnish information, as the animal is old and will be pining for its home. Dog owners are urged to keep their animals under close observation and to report any loss at once to the S.P.C.A. at Empire 0514.

The society also urges all housewives to refrain from putting their kitchen scraps and bones on the street or in their yards where dogs can eat this waste. Owners feed their dogs carefully, only to have the animals made sick by eating garbage. It is much kinder to both animals and owners if garbage is burned.

Rotary Programme Features Talks

Spokes Club members supplied the entertainment at the Rotary Club luncheon held yesterday at the Empress Hotel, with the president, James Little, in the chair. Members stood in silent tribute to the memory of late Rotarian James Fletcher. G. Conway Parrott, traffic manager, Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Ltd., was welcomed as a new member.

Speakers from the Spokes Club gave extemporaneous five-minute addresses, including Len Hobbs, who told of Saanich, "Land of Plenty," from the time of its purchase from the Indians in 1852 by Sir James Douglas. Councillor for the municipality of Saanich, Rotarian Hobbs supplied figures and facts. James Nimmo was humorous with Irish wit in speaking of "A Little Bit of Blarney," while Jack Connelly gave advice to fellow members in his talk, "Victoria, the Place I Live In," to "sell" Victoria to tourists and visiting Rotarians by making their sojourn here as pleasant as possible. Capt. Proudfoot rounded out the programme with remarks on "After the War, What?" The speaker believed "We in Canada will play a very large part." He added "Internationally we are going to have closer co-operation with the United States," and a "vote at the peace table will necessitate money and worry." The programme was under chairmanship of George Mathison.

Visiting Rotarians were: Reg G. Smith, Calgary; Frank Kershaw, Calgary; E. A. Toshach, Drumheller; Fred Sine, Calgary; G. O. Rinman, Calgary; Dr. George F. Stephens, Montreal; H. Smith, Courtenay, Ernest Stinson, Vancouver; Bill Stapleston, Vancouver; Dick Mayson, Prince Albert; Hugh Hanson, Montreal; J. C. Beveridge, Medicine Hat; Harry J. Madill, Yakima; Charles Alexander, Calgary; Theodore Dion, Matane, Que.; Harry Boothroyd, Port Alberni, and Frank Culp, Prince Albert.

Postwar Race Plans

Britain's System Will Be Revised

LONDON, April 12 (CP).—Revision of Britain's race track system, with a view to establishing courses that would compare favorably with any in the world, forms the major part of postwar plans of the Jockey Club, ruling body of the turf.

The plans follow recommendation of the racing reorganization committe for a chain of super courses, one for London and others for the big provincial centres, with larger purses to competitors, cheaper admission and better public accommodation.

To this end, Jockey Club Race Courses, Ltd., has been registered as a public company with a nominal capital of $45,000 in $4.50 shares, for the purpos. of obtaining control of a number of selected courses. In the past the Jockey Club granted licence to private companies who ran their meetings.

Various race courses will be taken over and, in due course, all racing will be conducted by the Jockey Club on a non-profit-making basis. Licences can be refused private companies by the ruling body.

"A chief object is to maintain and improve the breed of the English racehorse," said Capt. Charles Elsey, a top-notch trainer who is on the council of Race Courses, Ltd. "To do this we must get the support of the public, and that will mean we must look after their comfort."

At present, many tracks are so constructed that few spectators see the start of a race and only about 5 per cent the finish because the finish line is in front of the most expensive seats. This is particularly true at Ascot, which belongs to the King.

Directors of Race Courses Ltd., are the Earl of Sefton, Sir William Bass and Sir Edward Hamner, who are the Jockey Club stewards. Among those on the council are Sir Malcolm McAlpine, Sir Hugo Cunliffe-Owen and James Rank.

The racing reorganization committee reported considerable economies could be effected by reducing the number of courses and racing more frequently on the remainder. In peacetime, of 47 courses under Jockey Club jurisdiction, all but Newmarket, Ascot, York, Salisbury and Stockton were run by private companies. The ideal race course, the committee said, had no shareholders and profits could be put back into racing.

Smokies All Set For Ice Series Against Oshawa

TORONTO, April 13. (CP).—Trail Smoke Eaters, first British Columbia junior team ever to reach the Memorial Cup finals and a team of young smooth-passing "kids" are all set for the best-of-seven series with Oshawa Generals, beginning here Saturday.

The 14 members of the squad rested today following a light workout yesterday, at Maple Leaf Gardens. They will practice again tomorrow.

Coach Jerry Thomson said most of the boys have shaken colds and sore throats, which plagued them for the past two weeks of their campaign to the finals.

Tennis Club to Open Up Sunday

C.P.R. Tennis Club will have its official opening this Sunday when an American tournament will be in progress during the afternoon. Lunch and tea will be served and a large turnout of members is expected. A good supply of balls is on hand to take care of members' needs. There are still a few vacancies in the membership and anyone interested is asked to phone the Secretary, Dorothy Newman, E2175, without delay.

Phillies Buy Lupien

PHILADELPHIA, April 13 (AP).—Philadelphia Phillies announced today the purchase of First Baseman Ulysses (Tony) Lupien from Boston Red Sox for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Lupien was with Boston Red Sox throughout 1942 and 1943.

GUARDED IN DEATH

CHICAGO, April 13 (AP).—A mallard duck, apparently hit by an automobile in Grant Park near Lake Michigan, was guarded in death yesterday by its live mate. Hundreds of motorists saw the male bird constantly circle around the dead duck as if waiting for it to rise and continue their migration northward.

Pitching Is Big Problem

Mound Staff Is Mel Ott's Worry

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP).—First Division hopes are a-blooming in New York Giants' camp a week before the season opens, despite last year's dismal cellar finish, but pitching appears to bar the way.

Manager Mel Ott can count on last year's outfield and catching staff plus a renovated inner defence bolstered by the veteran Phil Weintraub at first base.

Pitching is the big question mark with Cliff Melton figuring to be No. 1 man, although Bill Voiselle, who won 10 and lost 21 for Jersey City, has been showing enough Spring stuff to be considered an opening day possibility.

Ace Adams may be pressed into starting service after his brilliant relief work in 70 games last year and Johnny Allen, late in reporting, can be spotted after sufficient rest.

Weintrub at first base is hardly a Major League innovation. Buddy Kerr, of Jersey City, is at shortstop and Cuban Nap Reyes has shifted from first to third where he has been getting competition from Hugh Luby, a .313 clouter for Oakland. Luby has played third in exhibition games although he came up as a second baseman where his competition is George Hausnann, a newcomer from New Orleans where he hit .298. The veteran Billy Jurges is likely to be the third-sacker when he shakes off a leg ailment.

Ott's draft call probably has been delayed by the new Selective Service orders permitting him at least to start the year in right. Bruce (Fatso) Sloan, up from Little Rock with a .365 average, is his replacement. Johnny Rucker is back in centre and Joe Medwick, predicting a return to the .300 circle, is a fixture in left.

Ernie Lombardi is the No. 1 catcher, and that department seems to be in fine shape with the veteran Gus Mancuso and rookie Joe Stephenson, from Springfield, Mass., backing up old Schnoez.

PHILADELPHIA, April 13 (AP).—Bob Montgomery, lightweight boxing champion in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, was accepted for the army when he passed his pre-induction physical examination today.

Claims He Did Fastest Mile

PHILADELPHIA, April 13 (AP).—The four-minute mile is not only possible, but it has been done, says Dr. George W. Orton, former University of Pennsylvania track coach.

Dr. Orton, a great distance runner himself almost 50 years ago, informed Ed Pollock, Evening Bulletin sports editor:

"You will be surprised to know that a runner once beat four minutes for the mile. His name was W. G. Lang. In 1863 he did a fraction under four minutes on a straightaway course."

Because of a strong wind backing him, Lang was not credited with the record. However, Dr. Orton thinks the four-minute record will some day be broken—officially and without any help from Nature.

Island Men Back

VANCOUVER, April 13 (CP).—Lieut. J. Hugh Kelly, of Victoria, was in charge of a number of soldiers who arrived here today from service overseas. It was Lieut. Kelly's second homecoming from overseas in this war.

C.Q.M.S. S. M. Palmer, of Victoria, had seen 51 months of service in England. Sgt. W. H. Elford, of Shawnigan Lake, was also included in the group.

The men, who returned because of lowered medical categories, or for further training, will be given a month's furlough before taking up their duties.
